COUNTY NEWS.

From All Over Calhoun

Minor Happenings of the Week

GATHERED BY THE REPUBLICAN'S ABLE CORPS OF CORRESPONDENTS.

ALEXANDRIA.

Mrs. Fannie Martin has returned from a pleasant visit to her sister at Lincoln.

Mrs. S. A. Green is visiting in Anniston and Oxford this week.

Miss Ophelia Glass, who has been attending school here for the past few months, has returned to her home in Alexandria City.

Mr. Frank Wakefield is attending Commencement in Piedmont.

The family of Mr. Edgar Wilkins has moved to Sulphur Springs for the summer.

GRAYTON.

A good rain and a fine season fell last Friday and Saturday.

We are glad to note that Miss Alia Calhoun is once more up and about.

The grass looks fine, while five-cent cotton looks pretty sick.

Messrs M. L. Maxwell and son have their saw mill set down, and are cutting some fine lumber.

There are no gold bugs about Grayton. Every body is for free silver.

I saw a man from Jacksonville yesterday. He told me the court house was still there. That is the place for it.

We are going to have pie on the table soon—mulberries are ripening.

It is rumored that the wedding bells ring will again in the near future.

Tell Sam Slim not to forget that county fair this fall.

We are glad the jury got in, behind the ballot box stuffers. May be their report will call them to their senses. The people want honest elections and a fair court. Let them have both.

MINK.

The health of our community is good, with the exception of some cases of neuralgia.

The fight against General Green continues. The recent rains reinforced him considerably, and he drove us out of the fields, but the pleasant weather looks favorable and we are making a charge on him. I feel sure that we will yet gain the victory.

Wheat is not doing so well. There is a good deal of rust in it. Oats are looking fine.

Bad worms are putting in good time on the corn, and are doing some damage. We are having a lot of replanting to do.

Messrs Monroe and Macon Carpenter have each had the misfortune to lose a fine horse during the past week.

Miss Ida Dickinson was at Mink, on business, Monday.

Mr. V. L. Weir, and others were here last week, buying cattle. We are looking for them again.

Henry Stanley, of Luke, Etowah county, was with us Saturday night and Sunday.

Col. B. B. Kile is rapidly moving our fine timber to his saw mills in Gadsden. His tram road is busy at work.

Mr. J. C. Carpenter and wife visited their son, J. L. Carpenter, on Sunday.

Give us free silver, and Joe Johnston for Governor.

DE ARMANVILLE.

It has been many years since our farmers have been as late planting corn as this.

Last Saturday a famous bee hunter, whose sight is dimmed by age, located, as he thought, a bee tree in the bottom, and invited several of his neighbors to the cutting. The tree was a large one, and after hours of hard labor in felling it proved to be a sound one, and never a bee was found. The joke is now enjoyed, save by those who engaged in the cutting.

Sunday singing exercises is now the order with the young people of this section.

The pastor, Mr. Jones, will fill his regular appointment here, next Sunday.

There will be a Sunday school rally at Harmony next Sunday.

A petition for the stock law will be gotten up for this beat to go into effect by fall.

The man who works these days "from sun to sun"

"His weary equal to woman,

"whose work is never done."

WHITE PLAINS.

Miss Nora White, who has been teaching in the District School here, left this week for Florence, her home, much to the regret of her many friends, and to the utter undoing of a certain young man.

A sudden death occurred here last Wednesday, that of Mr. Jack Reeves. He was operated upon for strangulated hernia, on Monday. Seemed to be doing well on Tuesday, but died the next day. We extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

CANE CREEK.

Mr. J. B. King, of Central Egypt, had his dwelling and all his household goods burned on last Saturday night. It is supposed that incendiaries did the work.

We attended the grave yard working at Morrisville last Saturday. We worked hard and when dinner time came we eat just as hard—one young fellow had the impudence to say harder.

Wonder if any boys we know would answer to the name "Shin Plaster?" And wonder if they carried their little satchels with them, when they went courting the second time.

We have had lots of rain for the last ten days. The farmers are looking blue and fields look blue also. The cotton and corn, however, looks thrifty.

I suggest that you give the pictures of your able correspondents and see what a fine lot of photos you will get together. The Herald could not beat them.

Over in Hayne's settlement there is an egg famine. Jack, Bob, Dick, Walter, Frank, Joe, Floyd, Leaborn and others have a hunting club. They hunt up all the eggs during the week, and on Sunday meet in the woods to cook and eat them. The cackle of a hen starts them to running quicker than thought.

OXFORD.

Rev. E. B. Norton and Miss Grace Myatt were married on the 28th inst., at Brookwood, Ala., and are now spending a few days with relatives and friends in Oxford.

The bridal party together with a number of invited friends was entertained Tuesday night at the residence of Mrs. Norton, the mother of the bridegroom. Rev. Mr. Norton is a former resident of this place and has a host of friends and admirers here who are always glad to welcome him. His lovely bride is one of the most popular young ladies of Brookwood and has a great number of friends in Birmingham, Marion and other places where she is well known.

Rev. J. H. Leslie and family are visiting Scottsboro this week. The meeting which had been in progress for nearly three weeks, was closed last week, and Rev. Leslie was very much in need of the rest he is now taking.

Dr. C. Freeman is visiting friends and relatives in Griffin, Ga.

There was considerable interest in military circles this week on account of the election of a captain for the Calhoun Rifles. 1st Lieut. H. C. Gurneys was elected Captain to fill the place of Major W. A. Orr who was recently honored by the commissioned officers of the state in the election of majors, and Lieut. Harrison was promoted to 1st Lieut., and Junior 2nd Lieut. Cooper was promoted to the 2nd Lieutenancy. Sgt. Frank Robertson was elected Junior 2nd Lieutenant.

Dr. J. W. Norton, of Birmingham, is in Oxford visiting his mother's family.

Oxford Lake is very popular at present, picnics are in full blast and the lake is the most convenient place for those who wish to take a little recreation.

There is still a diversity of opinion in our town on the financial question and other questions of international import. Count House removal is rather too insignificant to claim the attention of our theoretical financiers and embryonic diplomatists. If Mr. Cleveland needs any advice in appointing a new secretary of State, he might correspond with some of the sagacious political advisers of this community.

MORRISVILLE.

The recent spell of cool weather was very distressing to some farmers; they say it caused cotton to take the "draw ups," because it is smaller now than it was several days ago. Oates are not large enough, and many other bad things are charged to the cool weather. Now it has been raining too much.

Last Saturday was memorial day with us. The weather was very unfavorable, but a good number met and cleaned off the cemetery nicely. Rev. W. O. Horton promised to be with us but did not appear, and all of us were disappointed.

Mr. J. B. King had the misfortune to lose his dwelling house and all his household furniture by fire, sometime between midnight and daylight Sunday morning. He and family were not at home at the time of the burning.

J. C. Francis and family, of Cane Creek, were among the people who attended church here last Sunday.

BERA.

There was a grave yard working at New Bethel on Saturday. The yard was cleaned and beautifully decorated in the forenoon, and after listening to an able sermon by Rev. Noah Stephens, dinner was served. Every body present seemed to enjoy the refreshments.

Mr. Helton died near Bynums, on Sunday morning.

His death was very sudden. He only lived about fifteen minutes after he became sick. Chas. Bush, col., lost a valuable mule Saturday.

Mr. A. Simson, of Fergusonville, visited J. E. Canida on Sunday.

The singing at Eshalon Sunday was a success, and was largely attended.

Messrs Jut Franklin and Win Pass, of Beat 5, went down to Anniston Monday.

JENKINS.

We had one of the most destructive rains on last Sunday that we have had for a long time. Cereals were overflowing, and land is badly washed in places.

General Green still has the up-hill run of some of our farmers.

Mrs. Dorcas Whiteside left for a visit to relatives in Birmingham, this A. M.

Our people are all in good health and if our doctors are depending on the practice they are getting for bread and meat it is quite a gloomy prospect.

Several of our countrymen visited Jacksonville yesterday.

A Jacksonville Boy's Success.

The friends of Charlie Porter both in Jacksonville and throughout the country, will be glad to learn of the great success he is achieving in business, in the city of Baltimore, where he now resides.

Many will remember him as nothing more than a boy when he left Jacksonville about three years ago to take a position with a drug firm in the abandoned city, and pursue a course of study in pharmacy. He finished his studies in April, and was graduated sixth man in a class of fifty-eight. A few days since he purchased the business of the firm by whom he had been employed, and a letter to a friend in this city, received a few days since, bearing the modest inscription:

Chas R. Porter,
Pharmaceutical Chemist,
Baltimore, Md.,

Conveyed the intelligence that he was among the business men of Baltimore, as proprietor of a drug store in the most aristocratic part of the city.

Commencement.

ADDRESS BY DR. SMITH.

CONCERT BY MISS LANE'S MUSIC CLASS A GRAND SUCCESS.

Diplomas Awarded Graduates Who Will go Out and Teach in Alabama's Public Schools.

The commencement exercises of the State Normal College at Jacksonville began on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Liston, of the Presbyterian church, preached the commencement sermon to a large, cultivated and appreciative audience at the church of that denomination in this city. The text of the preacher was: "Behold I have opened to you a door, and no man can shut it." Rev. J. B. King, of this sermon was pronounced by all, who listened to it, to be one of the most instructive as well as one of the most appropriate that has been delivered in our city.

On Monday afternoon the Alumni Society held its annual meeting at the college building. A good attendance was present, and the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Miss Lucy Whisenand; Vice-Presidents, Misses Annie Ferney and Mary Ramagony; Secretary, Miss Emily Goodlett.

Among other matters that were brought before the Association for discussion, was that of raising a fund by the Alumni for the education of deserving young men and women. The suggestion met with the approval of the entire membership present, and steps were taken to put the movement on foot. The scheme is not to give the funds to those seeking an education, but to make them a loan to be paid out of their earnings after their education is completed. The idea is a good one, and deserves the co-operation of all the alumni of the school.

On Tuesday evening the college hall was filled by an immense audience, which assembled to hear the concert by the music class of Miss Undine Lane. Miss Lane's musical accomplishments, and the fame she has justly won as an instructor, had prepared all who had come out for a musical treat. Nor were they disappointed.

From the time that the accompaniment struck the keys in the opening chorus, until the close of the program, the audience was held in rapt attention, and its delight was frequently manifested by bursts of applause and repeated encores. Especial mention should be made of the vocal solos sung by Miss Katie Ross and Miss Sallie Henderson. The attempt to describe the beauty and sweetness of the melodious voices, would be vain as to attempt to paint the sky or add another hue into the rainbow.

The instrumental solos, duets, and quartets were, without exception, well executed, and made a fine impression upon the hearers. The young ladies showed remarkable familiarity with their instruments, and reflected great credit upon their teacher.

Miss Louise Lane, in her recitation of Meredith's "Aunt Hester," thoroughly captivated her audience. Her charming grace, expressive gestures, and gentle and sympathetic voice made her an eloquent artist of extraordinary powers.

On Wednesday evening the closing exercises of the year took place. The commencement that Dr. O. D. Smith, Professor of Mathematics in the Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical College, would deliver the commencement address, drew a number of our citizens, who had not attended any of the previous exercises. Dr. Smith was happily introduced by Prof. Daughte, one of his old pupils at Auburn, who paid a graceful tribute to the great work he had done for the cause of education. The theme of the speaker was Education, and after commenting most pleasantly upon the complimentary introduction of his friend, he launched boldly into the discussion of his subject, and for forty minutes he held the closest attention of his large audience, in a strong but beautiful address upon this subject, so apropos of the occasion, and of such vital importance to every hearer.

When he had closed his remarks to the graduating class, Prof. Ferney delivered diplomas to the following young teachers:—Miss Ada

Weir, Messrs W. H. Boyd, Chas. A. Wilkerson, Frank M. Martin, B. B. Bynum and J. C. Broughton. The year just closed has been a very successful one at the Normal school. While the number of graduates in the normal course is small, their work has been very fine, and six young teachers—thoroughly equipped—will aid next year in the education of the boys and girls of our state. The classes of next year and the year after are large ones, and are composed of earnest, industrious students. Under the scheme, as proposed by Professors Ferney, Wright and Daughte, for enlarging and improving the work of the normal school many pupils will be drawn here from a distance, and our school will be able to do far better work than ever before, and better than any other normal school in the state.

BISHOP O'SULLIVAN LECTURES IN JACKSONVILLE.

He Speaks of the Catholic Church and the Bible.

In the court house, Monday night, Right Reverend Bishop O'Sullivan of Mobile, delivered a very interesting discourse to a large and appreciative audience on the above subject.

He explained that the Catholic church believes and teaches that the Holy Bible is the word of God. It was given to men, not written as was the law of Moses, but God inspired men to write it, and guarded them from every error in the writing. Hence, God is responsible for the truth of all that is written in the Sacred Book. It is God's loving message to men. It is a kind of divine presence in the world.

During 1500 years the Catholic church was the sole guardian of the Bible. She preserved it safe through the period of heathen persecution and through the darkness and barbarism of later ages.

During the first 300 years of the Christian era the different parts of the New Testament were scattered in different places in the keeping of the local churches and of individuals to whom the epistles and gospels were first written.

About the year 100, the Catholic church, through her bishops, collected the scattered parts, united them with the Old Testament and certified to the world that the volume was inspired by God. This was formed the catalogue of the Scriptures which was the same then as it is today in the Catholic church.

During the 1000 years that elapsed between the formation of the canon of Scripture and the discovery of the art of printing in the 15th century, the Catholic church inspired her priests, monks and nuns to spend their days and nights in copying the Sacred volume.

Protestant historians acknowledge that it is to their labor we owe the Bible which we prize so much. To make a single copy was the labor of a year.

No wonder Bibles were not as plentiful as they are in these days of the printing press which multiplies books in millions.

The first book printed after the discovery of the art of printing, the art "preservative of all arts," was the Holy Bible. Several editions of the Bible in the German language were used from the printing press long before Luther succeeded in the Catholic church. It was printed in the language of the people, that they might read it.

Therefore it is not true that the Catholics are not allowed to read and study the Sacred Volume. The present Pope has recently written encouraging all to study the Holy Bible.

You may buy a Catholic Bible from any bookseller for a dollar or even less. How then can it be said that Catholics are not allowed to read or even to have in their homes the Holy Bible.

The Pope says that the man who knows the Bible is the bulwark of the Church of God.

Everything in the Bible is divine truth, but all revealed truth is not in the Bible. Therefore St. Paul writes: "Hold fast the traditions which you have learned by word or by our epistles."

There are many divine truths revealed by God and held by most Christians which are not written in the Bible, such as the change of the Lord's day from the Sabbath to Sunday, the baptism of infants, etc.

SAM SLIM.

Thinks Carlisle is a Case, Which Circumstances Have Altered. Once, A Man for the People, Now A Man against the People.

The "sound money" convention met in Memphis, Tenn., on the 25th, inst., as per appointment, and they whithered, and resolved, and Mr. Carlisle said his piece.

Have you read that piece? If not, you ought to. Not because the argument is convincing and powerful, and unanswerable; but you should read it as a demonstration of the fact, beyond all reasonable doubts, that "circumstances do alter cases." For instance, when Mr. John G. Carlisle was a member of congress, and dependent upon the people for his office, his salary, his living, he was one of the people, and he spoke for the people, even in that speech when he said that to deprive the people of one-half their primary money would be the greatest crime ever committed, and that it would be a greater calamity than war, pestilence and famine.

He spoke out in meeting for free coinage of silver, because it was for the good of the people who had honored him, and who would continue to honor him so long as he continued to advocate their cause. A very ingrate he would have been, if he had talked and acted otherwise. But now, since he is not for the people or of the people, but for Mr. Cleveland, and of the Cabinet, he yells long and loud for the single gold standard, and leaves the dear people out in the cold, with one-half of their primary money gone glimmering, and according to his speech in 1878, subject to a calamity greater than war, pestilence or famine.

Simply circumstances do alter cases sometimes, and Mr. Carlisle's case is one of the times.

A writer in the Hot Blast asks, if the free coinage of silver would not banish gold from the country? I answer, no, not a bit of it. We can only judge the future by the past, and gold did not take wings and fly away, from the foundation of the government to 1873, under the free coinage of silver and the free coinage of gold, when equal chances were given to both metals. There is no reason to apprehend the flight of gold if silver should be restored to its natural place as a primary money. That is all that we who oppose the single gold standard, so vigorously advocated by Mr. Carlisle, want, and that's what we are going to have.

"Equal rights to all, special privileges to none," is good, sound Democratic doctrine, and it has special reference to silver at this time.

TRAVELING OF MONUMENT. The monument, erected in memory of Samuel Noble, will be unveiled on June the 3th, at 4 p. m. The committee on arrangements has made special rates with the railroads to carry visitors to Anniston on that day, and the invitation committee ask that their friends everywhere take advantage of the opportunity and lend their presence to the end that the unveiling of this statue may be a fit tribute to the memory of one who gave so much of his time and energy to the upbuilding of Anniston and Calhoun county.

PROGRAMME. Parade, forming on Noble and 10th streets, 3:30 p. m. 1. Mayor and city council. 2. Committee of Samuel Noble Monument Association. 3. Military. 4. Civic organizations. 5. Fire department.

ORDER OF EXERCISES. 1. Prayer by Dr. Geo. B. Eager, at 4 p. m. 2. Presentation to city authorities. 3. Acceptance by the Mayor, Hon. F. M. Hight. 4. Unveiling, by Elizabeth Dave Roberts, granddaughter of Samuel Noble. 5. Music. 6. Poem, Read by Pupil of Noble Institute for Girls. 7. Oration, by Hon. Julia M. Caldwell. 8. Music.

We publish on the third page of today's REPUBLICAN the call for the bimetallic convention in Memphis on the 12th and 13th of this month. It is hoped that this convention will be largely attended.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pain in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many remedies, but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Blisters and found relief at once. Electric Blisters is especially adapted to cure all kidney and liver troubles, and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c per large bottle. At all the drug stores.

Capt. L. V. Dean, special agent for the Capital City Insurance Co., was in Jacksonville last Monday, and P. O. Hawthorn, special agent for the Phoenix Insurance Co., of London, was here Wednesday.

FOUND GUILTY.

Ten Years in Penitentiary.

The Jury Find Joe Burton Guilty of Murder in Second Degree and Fix Punishment at Ten Years.

NEW TRIAL REFUSED—THE CASE GOES TO THE SUPREME COURT.

Judge Brewer Sentences 11 Prisoners and They Will All Remember That They Have Been in Court.

On last Saturday, the jury in the case of the State vs Joe Burton, after having remained in the jury room for about four hours, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree, and fixed the penalty at ten years in the penitentiary. Counsel for the defense entered a motion for a new trial and Judge Brewer fixed last Tuesday, 28th, as the date for hearing the motion. Able arguments were made, both by counsel for the state and the defense, on Tuesday afternoon; and on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock Judge Brewer rendered his decision, which overruled the motion. Attorneys for defense will make the case to the supreme court.

Thus ends one of the most celebrated trials ever held in Calhoun county. It has consumed fifteen days, and has created an interest throughout this part of the state.

On Saturday afternoon the prisoners convicted during the term, were brought before his honor and received the following sentences:

John Lawrence, col.—Carrying concealed weapon, $50 fine. Sentenced to 215 days at hard labor for the county, for fine and costs.

Henry Jells, col.—Petit larceny. Jury assessed punishment of 10 days in county jail. On account of defendant's age, and in consideration of the fact that he had already been in prison for that length of time, he was discharged by the court.

Joe Askew, col.—Assault with a weapon, Fine $25. Sentence, hard labor for the county six months and 197 days for fine and costs.

Lee Brown, col.—Using abusive and obscene language in the presence of a woman, 30 days hard labor for county. Sentence 661 days.

Bill Powers, col.—Grand Larceny, 25 months in penitentiary.

Jack Champion, white.—Grand larceny in five cases, and petit larceny in one case. The prisoner pled guilty in all the cases against him and received sentences to the penitentiary which amounted to 11 years and 2 months.

Leon Moore, col.—Grand larceny, 5 years in penitentiary.

Bert Johnson, col.—Assault with intent to murder, 20 years in penitentiary. This is the negro that struck Mr. Jannagano.

Early Vernon, col.—Grand larceny, 25 months in penitentiary.

Willis Brown, white.—Grand larceny, 25 months in penitentiary. Brown is a boy, and when asked what he had to say, replied that he took the gun because he was out of money.

Jim Alexander, col.—Petit larceny.—stealing cotton. Convicted in three cases, and received sentences amounting to 23 months at hard labor for the county.

Others came over on Monday, and the prisoners were taken to the miles and the penitentiary.

It May Do as Much For You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pain in his back and also that his bladder was affected. SPEAKER CRISP.

DEFINES HIS POSITION.

He is in Favor of the Free Coinage of Silver without International Agreement.

Athens, Ga., May 28.—Speaker Crisp puts a quietus on the discussion over his views on the financial question in the following card given out for publication to day.

"Americans, Ga., May 28.—Ever since I gave consideration to the question, I have been a believer in, and advocate of, the free and unlimited coinage of silver. Ever since I entered public life I have spoken and when opportunity offered, voted for it. I still favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver by the United States, independently of the ratio of 19 to 1. How any one at all acquainted with my public utterances and acts can have mistaken or been in doubt as to my position is a mystery to me. My excuse for this card is misrepresentation.

My hope is that this will end it. "Charles F. Crisp."

Death of Mrs Skelton.

On last Saturday, May 25, 1895, Mrs. Elizabeth Skelton closed her eyes in death in the 85th year of her life, and her body was placed to rest at Four Mile church last Sunday morning, the funeral service being conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Horton, assisted by Rev. F. M. Treadaway.

Mrs. Skelton was the widow of the Hon. Asa Skelton, whom the older citizens of the county well remember. For many years before his death he was one of Calhoun's most prominent citizens, and represented her in the legislature with credit to himself and constituents.

Mrs. Skelton was one of the most gentle, lovable women whom the writer has ever known. Her life was one of humble, Christian consecration and was full of self sacrifices.

It was truly said of her by her pastor, that she was one whom to know was to love. For many long years she had lived in the neighborhood in which she was buried, and it was truly stated in her funeral service that no one had ever been known to speak unkindly of her.

Neither had her own children ever heard her in the heat of passion speak an unkind word of any person. Her life was truly a remarkable one for gentleness of character and true christian devotion. She is now with the Master.

"My husband was subject to severe attacks of neuralgia which caused him great pain and suffering. The pain were principally about his eyes, and he often had to remain in a darkened room, not being able to stand the light. Ayer's Pills being recommended, he tried them, using one before each meal. BIMETALLIC CONVENTION

AT MEMPHIS, JUNE 12TH AND 13TH.

No Money to be Spent in Employing Hiredling Enmissaries to Drum Delegates from Cotton Exchanges and Boards of Trade.

But an Appeal Made from Intelligent Patriotism for Every Vicinity to be Represented.

MEMPHIS, TENN., May 26.—The Bimetallic league of Tennessee has issued the following proclamation:

"To the People of the United States:—

"The arch enemies of the agricultural and producing classes of our country, moved by greed and encouraged by avarice, have conspired to transfer the essentially governmental function of issuing and controlling the money volume of the nation to a system of banking corporations, full of the vice of class legislation and void of any virtue which commands it to the consideration of a patriotic citizen.

"Undaunted by the failure to secure the sanction of the American congress, the promoters of this nefarious scheme have boldly taken the initiatory step to the object of their conspiracy. Backed by the great power of exhaustless wealth and the influence of high official position, they have publicly convened in the city of Memphis and openly declared their purpose. They demand that the constitutional and inherently sovereign right to issue money be delivered into their hands. They hesitate at no fraud, they scruple at no fraud.

"Knowing the innate integrity of our people, they prize of 'honest money.' Appreciating our aversion to paternalism, they say the government must go out of the banking business. They hope and believe that we will not stop to consider that to exact a dollar, which by vicious legislation they have made cost the debtor twice as much labor and double the amount of produce as the one promised, is not dishonest. They expect the American people to accept as true the statement that the money of the constitution established by the fathers is dishonest for no other reason save the diet of their illustrious accomplices and plastic

"They hope that the people will ignorantly endorse the sovereign prerogative and the money volume and establish a system of uniform weights and measures with the business of loans and discounts, inherently appropriate to the occupation of the private citizen.

"They think that we will forget that the true question is not whether the government shall go out of the banking business, but whether the banks shall go out of the governing business. Thus they design, by the aid of public apathy to rivet the chains which make free men slaves.

"To the end that their hopes may meet with disappointment and their conspiracy with failure—that the toiling masses of our people may be saved from an industrial serfdom more cruel and degrading than chattel slavery—something must be done to meet their cunningly directed and insidious assaults.

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Our foe is unscrupulous; his greatest victory was achieved by stealthy and corrupt legislation, ledgerman disguised to the men who planned it and discreditable to the people's representatives who failed to detect it. The crime of 1873 cannot be explained upon any other hypothesis.

"That the people may come together and take counsel of each other, it has been deemed expedient to call together a convention to assemble at Memphis on this 12th and 13th days of June, 1895. Every community, every city and town and every state in the union is earnestly requested and cordially invited to send delegates to that convention.

"Every vicinity is urged to organize bimetallic clubs, and every club should be represented. It is proposed that this convention shall voice the sentiments of the people. Their country needs their best thoughts, their most careful deliberation and energetic action. They have no money to employ hiredling emissaries to drum delegates from cotton exchanges and boards of trade; it is the only fund to which they can appeal.

"The object of this convention is to formulate some definite plan of future action to give direction to the overwhelling volume of public sentiment favoring a return to our own, and establishing our independence of alien financial institutions; to devise means for such a campaign of education that it hereafter will be impossible to elect only such men to the legislative and executive offices of the nation as are unswayed by power and unbought by spoils.

"W. N. BROWN,
President Central Bimetallic League of Shelby County.
"D. H. ARCHIBALD, Secretary."

Senator Morgan's views.

Washington, May 22.—The income tax decision, its effects upon the revenues and the probabilities of an extra session of congress to provide means for supplying the deficit were the chief subjects of discussion in political circles today.

Senator Morgan, of Alabama, one of the oldest constitutional lawyers in the south, said the decision presented a very grave situation, and he did not care to give an extended opinion of its effects, as the subject would probably come before the senate.

"Besides," he said, "I do not care to hold a post mortem. I'm not a coroner. In a nutshell I will say, however, that the decision leaves the taxing powers of the government in a state of wreck. It will require a long time to gather up the fragments. Principles of taxation, which were considered well settled, are torn up by this decision."

How will the question come up in the senate?

"In connection with the question of refunding the $75,000 already collected and the refund of the cotton, whiskey, beer and tobacco taxes, all those taxes are as much direct taxes as the tax on personality and are unconstitutional according to yesterday's decision of the supreme court. The members of the court, as lawyers are too apt to do, were seeking a ground for precedents and ancient

ABSOLUTELY PURE

MYSTERY OF THE GREAT RUBY.

By LUCIE ST. DEANE

(Copyright, 1895, by American Press Association.)
and compel him to give up the secret, or they would find it out for themselves. But we were greatly in fear of those bad men, who were somewhere in New York. They were evil enough to know others to watch and follow us. So we took all precautions we could, my husband and I not recognizing each other in leaving the city until we reached the country town near which we made our home a part of the time.

My husband staid at the Astor House when in New York because it was convenient to Maiden Lane, the home of most of the great jewelers. I went to a hotel further up town, both of us using our American names, because we were not afraid to appear openly and honestly before the public.

Lucie succeeded in making the finest ruby of all in the workshop of our country home. It was at my suggestion that he called it Nana Sabib's ruby, for nearly every one knows that it is the greatest ruby in the world. He placed it in the hands of a jeweler named Brown to sell for him. On the little box in which the ruby was placed my husband always put a mark which told him the exact age of the stone. "Knowing that at the end of 20 days it would decay, turn to nothingness, he must of necessity complete its sale within that period, or he would have nothing to sell."

After he had left the Nana Sabib ruby with Mr. Brown my husband became very much frightened, believing he had made a mistake to its sale. He had given Mr. Brown a week in which to sell it, but Lucie feared it would not live that long. He sent me to call on Mr. Brown and learn the truth.

I did so. When I admired the jewel and turned it over in my hand and looked at the big grain and the detailed discovery that within 12 hours the ruby would pass out of existence. If payment was not secured within that time or a little more, all our calculations would go amiss.

Mr. Brown is a very kind hearted man. I reached a small party of him to keep in his good graces, but there was no need of that, for he was so impressed with my appearance that he acted very foolishly and showed that he had fallen in love with me.

"Nice Mr. Brown," a lady told me. "There's not a word of truth in what she writes. When the morrow would arrive and the gentleman who had purchased the great ruby found that he had nothing of the kind in his possession, he would be sure that he had been robbed. Suspicion would unjustly point to us, so my husband and myself left New York that night and staid in our country home until the day after tomorrow. That was sufficient to expose our husband and myself to the wrath of the jeweler in Maiden Lane who had forwarded it to them, and then an investigation was made, which caused everything to become clear."

Before that was done, however, my good husband and I left America. We had some dreadful experiences, we got away on the steamer. Knowing that nothing could be proved against us, we were not afraid and would have remained longer in America but for the persecution of those wicked lords of the earth. They followed us out to our country home and kind a man to help them. They got into a quarrel, and one of them was sent, though, and to say not killed.

The man whom they sent forced his way into our workshop, but notwithstanding came again, for the simple old woman with whom we lived restored him to life when I had arranged everything so as to punish him for helping to persecute us.

We are back in India at last in our dear old home. The only fear I have of Arkik and Paros, who must still be very angry, but I pray that they may see the error of their ways and leave us alone. Blessings!

Application for Decree to Sell Land.
THE STATE OF ALABAMA,
County of Calhoun.

In Probate Court for said county, May 14th, 1895.
This day comes Mrs. Addie J. Watson and files in court her petition and under oath, in and form required by law, praying for an order and decree of the court for the sale of certain lands described in said petition as the SW 1/4 of the NW 1/4, and the NW 1/4 of the SW 1/4 of section 21, in T. 2 N., R. 10 E., N. 10 W., for division among the joint owners thereof, which said petition is examined by this court and placed on the file for the inspection of all concerned.

It is therefore ordered that the 25th day of June 1895 be and is hereby appointed the day for hearing and considering said petition, and that notice of the filing of said petition and the day set for its consideration be given by publication for three successive weeks in the Jacksonville Republican a newspaper published in said county, notifying all persons interested to be and appear before this court on said 25th day of June, 1895, then and there to show cause, if any, why said petition should not be granted.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the concurrence of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without hesitating. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria destroys Worms.
Castoria cures Colic.
Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Cud.
Castoria cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic.
Castoria relieves Teething Troubles.
Castoria cures Constipation and Flatulency.

Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air. Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk. Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."

WE HAVEN'T LEFT A STONE UNTURNED.

We have ploughed the entire producing field. We have furrowed deep and wide. We have done everything within the bounds of possibility to lift still higher the Famous' excellence—already famous. We have had experience for a teacher. We have had the preference you have always shown for us stimulating to greater achievements. We have this one end and aim in view to better the store, better the values, increase the variety and lower the prices; in short, offer more, ask less. As evidence, look at our SPRING SUITS. They are unbettable. They tell of their greater goodness at a glance.

$6.5 TO $15.00.

Look at the Little Boys' and Big Boys' Suits, $1.25 to $7.50.

Look at the Furnishings, from one end to the other, Rich Values, Popular Prices. We don't know the meaning of the word trouble. No effort is too great. The harder you are to fit, and to suit, the harder we strive to fill your satisfaction to its fullest. Giving your money back is only rectifying the error. We do what is better, guard against its occurrence. Perfection is not a chance shot here. You will hit the bull's eye every time. Fire away.

Judge Akin, representing the defense, did not leave the city. The other lawyers in the case, both for the state and defense, went home but returned on Monday.

Deserved Compliments.

All those who attended the concert at the college last Thursday evening have passed the most enthusiastic compliments upon Miss Undine Lane for the progress which her music pupils made during the past session, and on the success of her concert.

Mingled with the many nice things said of Miss Lane in connection with her class and concert, are expressions of sincere regret that she will not have charge of the music department of the State Normal School at its next session. She has given perfect satisfaction as a teacher, and if the vote of every patron of the school could retain her, she would not go away.

She is universally loved by the people of Jacksonville; is a thoroughly competent teacher, and the school which has secured her service for the next year is to be congratulated.

A Faithful Servant.

No more beautiful and touching example of the love and devotion of the old southern negro for "their white people"—as they often call them—has been witnessed here than that of Aggie Forney, the servant of the Hudsons who waited upon Mrs. Fullinwider in her last sickness. Two weeks ago she took her place by the bed-side of the sufferer, and down to the day of her death the faithful negro did not leave her. With no hope of reward, but inspired by a devotion, nothing less than sacred, she watched and waited, through the long days and the sleepless nights, for the destroyer's coming. And when at last, she saw the eyelids of her "young mistress" close in death, her broken heart confessed in tears the sorrow that she felt.

A Correction.

In our publication of the grand jury report in last week's issue we made that part of the report, which referred to the election irregularities discovered in the investigation, read as follows: "we find that there were irregularities." It should have read "we find that there were serious irregularities." The error was an omission of the word "serious." In preparing the report for the compositor. In order that the report be given as read to the court, we deem it proper to make this correction.

Ed Caldwell and Will Clark went fishing on Monday evening.

By way of being sure of some excitement, in case the fish should not bite, they drove that hundred dollar horse of Clark's. The fish did not bite, and for the way home the horse furnished the fun. Of course the exact facts will never be known, but from what could be gathered in the shape of broken spokes, torn cushions, bits of harness, and two weary pilgrims trudging into Jacksonville about sunset, the conclusion is that this horse of Clark's did the Tom O'Shaunter act, and ditched both the sheriff and his deputy.

A stranger who met the beast just as he turned into the woods, reported that he had discarded every thing but the collar and bridle.

GATHERED BY THE REPUBLICAN'S ABLE CORPS OF CORRESPONDENTS.

The Samuel Noble Monument.
Unveiled at Anniston. Large Crowds in Attendance, Regardless of the Rain.

CLOSE OF SOUTHERN FEMALE UNIVERSITY AND NOBLE INSTITUTE.

From all Sections Comes News of the Successful Fight of the Farmers Against the Grass. A Marriage at Bera.

CHOCOLCCO.

Mr. Ross Blackburn killed nearly two hundred rats in his crib the other day.

Mr. J. V. Rhodes, who has been sick for several weeks, is able to be up.

Miss Fannie Rhodes' school closes this week.

Rev. Hagler preached an excellent sermon at the school building last Sabbath.

At Harmony church next Sabbath afternoon, at 3 p. m. Messrs Carthel and Insell will deliver addresses on Sunday school work.

Rev. M. G. Milligan preached last Sabbath, at Cave Creek, near Gadsden.

Miss Jessie Davis has gone to Virginia to spend the summer with her sister. We are sorry to lose Miss Jessie for so long a time from our community.

Mrs. S. N. Milligan spent last week, visiting her mother, Mrs. N. P. Searbrough, at White Plains.

Miss Emma Searbrough, after a visit of several months to her sister, Mrs. Luck Searbrough, has returned to her home in South Alabama. She is accompanied by her sister, who will spend some time with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Downing, with some of the little ones, are visiting near Cave Creek.

Miss Watson, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. B. Searbrough, has returned to her home at Weavers.

Miss Mattie Whorton, who has been teaching in Dadeville, has returned.

Mrs. Grubbs while returning from a neighbor's on Tuesday, fell in the middle of the road. She was carried to a neighbor's house and has been very sick since.

A. M. Sealy, of Randolph, and Miss Golihere were married on Sunday by Dr. Davis.

Mr. W. C. Searbrough visited us on Monday.

TAMPA.

We have been having warmer weather than usual for the first of June. Therefore the little storm of Tuesday evening was very refreshing, not only to man and beast but also to the growing crops of cereals, vegetables and fruits.

While the lightning was flashing, the thunder rolling, the rain falling we read aloud the address of Genl. Wade Hampton, at the unveiling of the Confederate monument, at Chicago. For simplicity and beauty of language it is unsurpassed, and is also a clear and concise enunciation of the principles for which the people of the South fought so dearly and sacrificed so much. Every young man, and every woman, boy and girl of our Southland should read it carefully and treasure its teaching.

Well, vacation has come, and with it crowds of merry young folks seeking the cool shade and health-giving water of Sulphur Springs. Sunday school picnics on the train, town and country picnics in buggies, carriages, hacks, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Palks, from near Gadsden, have been visiting their mother, Mrs. Rachel Treadwell, who is thought to be better.

Our farmers busy plowing and the community enjoying good health, are best news.

MINK.

There was a grave yard cleaning at Mt. Gilead last Saturday. After the yard had been cleaned off and the graves decorated, the people met in the church and listened to a good sermon by Elder G. S. Boxer, the pastor of the church. Dinner was then announced, and all present did justice to that part of the program. After dinner, we gathered in the church and had some good singing, after which good Sunday school talks were made by Messrs. G. M. Phillips, Frank Palmer, J. B. Roper and C. A. J. Hollingsworth.

Messrs Dina Barnes and Miles Nabors, of Hokes Bluff, visited Mink on business Monday.

We are still fighting Genl. Green. Success to the Republican.

CANE CREEK.

There was a working at Weather's cemetery last Saturday. The good people turned out and cleaned off the cemetery, decorated the graves, put up a nice wire fence, and the ladies, as usual, had such a dinner for us as only the Cane Creek women can fix up. You folks eating fried meat and bread and beef three times a day, should have been there. I haven't been hungry since.

Mr. Geo. Loyd and lady, Mr. Robinett and lady, were among our visitors from a distance at the cemetery working.

Mr. J. E. Downing and one-fourth of his family (6) are visiting his mother this week.

We see the accomplished Miss Zola Brothers has returned home from the Normal College in Jacksonville.

Master Frank Brothers, of Jacksonville, is on a visit to his grandparents.

Our farmers are busy killing grass, and crops are growing finely.

Our people complain of hard times, but it doesn't seem like it from the way they have contributed to our neighbor who was burned out.

I passed through Egypt last week and found the flies soaring. Expect the King will not let Israel go. Moses will have to get his rod in order.

BYNUM'S.

Our farmers are quite busy working their crops. They will have to get a hustle on themselves to keep up with the grass.

We are having a little sickness in town at present. Mrs. Moss has been quite sick for a few days but is some better. We hope she will continue to improve. Miss Maggie Burns, one of our young ladies is ill.

Dr. Bullard, of Oxford, is tending on her. We sincerely hope that she will soon be all right again.

Prof. J. E. Hughes and sister went down to Talladega on a visit a few days ago. The professor returned on Sunday, but Miss Ella will spend a while with friends.

We had quite a nice time at the singing at Eulaton Sunday. A large attendance and plenty to eat.

Rev. Mr. Willson and daughter are visiting the family of Mr. G. W. Burns.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johnson, a boy, and they are very proud of him.

Mr. T. D. Bynum is visiting in Texas, where he went to attend the reunion.

Miss Daisy Moss returned from Texas on Wednesday. She has been away quite a while. She was warmly welcomed home by her friends and relatives.

A nice boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harrison.

BERA.

Married, at the residence, of E. J. Haynie, Mr. John Self to Mrs. M. J. Varwell, Esquire Haynie officiating. The groom is eighty-five years of age, while the bride is twenty years younger. Mr. Self has been married four times, and is the father of twenty-seven children.

Prof. Stallard has vacated his school for one month, and returned to his father's home at Francis.

Mr. Asa Allen, of DeArmanville, is visiting in these parts.

Rev. T. J. Wynn and E. T. Rhodes, of Eulaton, and S. M. Roberts, of Morrisville, are in had health.

Miss Ella Dickert, visited Misses

Sallie and Maggie Haynie last week. The Sunday school at New Bethel was largely attended last Sabbath.

MORRISVILLE.

The weather is getting hot, and vegetation is growing very fast. Crab grass is showing signs of animation in some places.

There is some rust on wheat, but I do not believe that it will do much damage.

Mr. John Self, and Mrs. M. J. Varwell were united in the holy bonds of matrimony last Sunday, E. J. Haynie, J. P., officiated. The groom is only 85 years old, has been married four times, and is the father of twenty-seven children. Twenty-five of them are living and doing well. The blushing bride is only 60 years old and this is her second venture in matrimonial enterprise.

Opinions are divided in regard to the action of the grand jury in the charge of fraud in last August and November elections, but the great number believe that the grand jury did right.

The silver question is being discussed and very few object to free coinage at 16 to 1.

Prof. Stallard has vacated his school at New Bethel until the first Monday in July. The examination last Saturday showed that he had advanced his pupils a great deal, which speaks well for him.

Esquire E. J. Haynie, created a considerable sensation in his neighborhood, last Friday, by blushing up and plunging nearly all day. A thing that he has not been accused of doing before in these many days. Some said that had things were going to happen, others said it was reformation, and finally all agreed to wait for developments.

FERGUSONVILLE.

The farmers have on an extra move now, and are marshalling all their forces in the skirmish with General Green, and as the General is well-nigh omnipresent, they can find him anywhere.

The weather has been very hot for several days and the grass is growing rapidly. Crops too look well, and farmers are running on full time. They will soon have their crops in good shape if this weather continues.

Capt. Charles Simpson and lady, were visiting relatives in our place last Sunday.

Master Clarence Weathers, of Anniston, was visiting his old friends around Fergusonville last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ferguson drove out to visit Mrs. Sallie Loyd and Mrs. Howard last Sunday. This is our Jim, the ex-servicing machine agent now a farmer. For the benefit of the Morrisville correspondent, I will say that Jim has talked farming in the way he did sales in the machine business. Consequently he talked the taste out of the corn two weeks ago. His Morrisville friend had better come around and hitch on to the ark.

Messrs T. H. Clements and Gus Donahoe are talking of moving their saw mill soon.

Mr. Jim Acker was at home last week, and reports the sale of tobacco good.

Professor Person's school closed on the last day of May.

Mr. J. H. McEachin is threatening to kill grass this week.

The thermometer went to 100 on Monday.

BRUNER.

The health of our community is good.

We have had a world of grass but the farmers, by patience and hard ticks, are killing it out very rapidly. They now have the general on the run, and with a fair chance they will keep him moving.

Oats are looking very well. The plentiful rains which have recently fallen were just what the oat crop needed.

Very little wheat was sown in our section this season.

Mrs. Weiss, of Birmingham, is visiting her son, W. F. Weiss, of Bruner.

We rejoice to see the Republican shooting at the gold standard. We trust you will throw hot shot into the camp of the enemy, and put them to rout.

How many of your correspondents are for the gold standard?

Down here we believe in the currency of our fathers and we want to get back to their ways as soon as possible. We should like to have Johnston for Governor, and Jno. T. Morgan for President. This would be a ticket for the people.

Let the REPUBLICAN keep up the fight for silver, and every time a gold-bug shows itself, smash it. Don't lose a chance to "blitz" them.

WEAVERS.

The extreme weather is making it very difficult to get the crops in good condition. Some of the low lands are not yet planted and will hardly do much good this year.

A good deal of cotton has not yet been chipped, and at this writing it is too wet to hoe.

The oat crop is a good one, but wheat is too thin to yield much.

The repairs for the rock crusher are here and will be attached at once, and the work on the roads will be resumed.

Until General Green withdraws his forces, it might be best to let road working wait awhile.

The thermometer stood at 95 at 2 o'clock, Monday.

There is some sickness this week, but nothing serious.

Rev. F. M. Treadaway filled Bro. Horton's appointment here last Sabbath. Bro. Horton was called away to attend the burial of his brother-in-law.

OHATCHEE.

Dr. Sanders was seen hurrying towards the residence of Mr. W. H. Surrency a few days ago. A very little one was the cause of the excitement and there are four in his family now.

Mr. J. A. Orr, who has been spending several weeks in our settlement, had great success fishing while here. He has gone to Memphis to take a position with a cotton firm there this season.

Mr. C. P. Surrency leaves us in a few days to take a position with the Dwight Mfg. company, as foreman on their new cotton factory building at Alabama City.

Mrs. Lizzie Surrency has recovered from a very severe spell of sickness.

Master Charlie Surrency went fishing with Mr. Orr a few days ago and caught the largest fish of the season. He came near being pulled into the creek, but succeeded in landing the "Cat".

ALEXANDRIA.

Dr. and Mrs. Elrod are visiting their former home in Collinsville.

Miss Ethel Nielson, who has been attending school here has returned to her home in Collinsville.

Mr. K. Woodruff's little girl is quite sick.

Quite a number of people from here attended the unveiling of the Noble monument in Anniston Wednesday.

Dr. Corley, of Talladega, was among his friends here today. Doctor Corley was once "of Alexandria," and his return is always welcomed.

Almost every day some one from Anniston passes going to the famous Sulphur Springs.

Public Speaking.

Mr. Percy Clark, an old Calhoun county boy, but for several years past a newspaper correspondent at Washington, and Hon. John H. Blankhead, the able representative from the Sixth Alabama district, and chairman of the committee on public building and grounds, will address the citizens of Calhoun county at the opera house in Anniston Saturday, June 8th, at 2 o'clock p. m. on the issues of the day. No charge for admission, and all are invited to attend. After the speaking a bimaculate club will be formed for the free coinage of gold and silver without discrimination.

Mr. Marshall, the cotton seed oil man, does not wear that smile because of the advance in the price of oil or meal. Something better than that! A young lady arrived Wednesday night. That's what makes Mr. Marshall smile.

ANNISTON.

The monument erected to the memory of Samuel Noble, Anniston's founder, was today unveiled in the presence of fully 10,000 people. The procession, composed of five military companies, secret orders, fire department and a vast throng of citizens and visitors formed at 3:30 o'clock, and after parading the principal thoroughfares marched to the monument.

After an earnest prayer by Rev. P. P. Culver, the cord which held the veil about the statue was drawn by the hand of little Elizabeth Daves Roberts, the eldest granddaughter of Mr. Sam Noble, and as the covering fell away and disclosed the form of Anniston's founder a thrill of sadness filled the assembled people.

In the absence of Dr. R. P. Huger the presentation was made by Mr. D. C. Blackwell, in words well chosen to suit the occasion. When he had concluded the acceptance of the valued gift was made by Mayor Hight, in a speech that overflowed with love and tenderness for the man whose name is sacred to this fair city.

After the reading of a memorial poem by Miss Christine Cooke and the decorating of the monument by the young ladies, Col. John M. Caldwell, orator of the day, was introduced and held the vast audience spellbound with his matchless eloquence. He was at his best and as the words fell from his lips teeming with brilliant gems of oratory, the multitude listened with close attention. He concluded his address with the following beautiful expression:

"Today we pay him tardy tribute, but never the less in manner worthy of him and us. We place before the world his form developed out of marble as it stands before us silent and still. Pioneer citizen, we have never seen or do we expect to see thy like again. May the inspiration of his work and genius and the recollection of his name abide with us."

All the men in Calhoun county who feel interest in the question of finance should attend the public speaking in Anniston next Saturday. No man in Alabama makes an able speech in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver than Hon. John H. Blankhead.

It is hoped that every beat in Calhoun county will be well represented. Let all come and hear words of truth from one who has given much study to this important question.

The first number of the Alabama Leader, the Populist paper published by A. P. Longshore, was issued here last Thursday.

Col. G. C. Ellis, of Jacksonville, was a visitor to Anniston last Thursday.

The subscription to date to secure the girls industrial school for Anniston amounts to $7,918.50.

The commencement exercises of the Southern Female University have been greatly enjoyed by the people here and Anniston appreciates this splendid institution of learning more today than ever before.

The annual address was delivered by Hon. J. B. Graham, of Talladega. His theme was Education of Women, and the address was full of profound thought, eloquent language, practical advice, and sparkling humor.

The graduating exercises of the Noble Institute this week have been full of interest, and have not been excelled anywhere. This school is doing a grand work, and Anniston is justly proud of it.

The Republican Job Office.

The REPUBLICAN'S job office is now in the hands of Mr. S. H. Lester, who will give it his entire time and attention, and will do promptly all work given him.

We have recently added a lot of new type, and are prepared to do better work than ever before. Persons desiring letter heads, note heads, bill heads, statements, pamphlets, or any other job work, will do well to get the prices at this office before having their work done.

Remember that you can now have any job done promptly and neatly at this office.

W. H. Dean, who attended the reunion at Houston, and afterwards made a tour of the state, has returned to Jacksonville.

Miss Sallie Hoke is visiting friends in Anniston.

PROF. CHAPPELL.

FORMERLY OF JACKSONVILLE.

Carries the People of Milladega With Him as Against the Governor of Georgia.

The people of Calhoun well remember Prof. J. Harris Chappell, who a few years ago was President of the Jacksonville Normal School. While here, on more than one occasion, Prof. Chappell demonstrated beyond all doubt that he not only had the courage of his convictions, but on all occasions he would defend what he believed to be the right.

The writer well remembers the aggressive attack which Prof. Chappell made upon a certain well known teacher who denounced the state normal schools during the State Teachers Association when in session in Anniston. He scored the distinguished gentleman so unmercifully that no one else felt disposed to take the rostrum in a speech against normal schools.

As the President of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college, Prof. Chappell recently expelled a girl for a breach of discipline, involving the integrity of her examination. After this, the faculty decided that she was not entitled to a diploma. Another member of the faculty who taught in the Jacksonville Normal school is Prof. Earnest, who stood by Prof. Chappell, as did all the other teachers. After the faculty had made their decision known, the trustees held a meeting and decided otherwise, as on previous examination the young lady had been passed upon favorably as being entitled to a certificate as a graduate.

After the trustees decided to reverse the action of the faculty, they decided to issue the diplomas themselves.

The following special sent out from Milladega gives an account of the sensation created during the night of the commencement:

"When Governor Atkinson announced that the trustees would deliver the diplomas the students, the faculty and the audience were amazed."

After Professor Chappell made his protest, Governor Atkinson stepped forward before the applause had died away. With a face white with rage and in a voice choked with anger he turned to President Chappell and uttered these words, amid deadlike silence:

"I have known Professor Chappell a long time, but I never thought he would be guilty of an act so unbecoming a gentleman and so uncharacteristic as persecuting a defenseless girl."

He waited a moment to give his words effect and then he said further:

"The board of trustees were guided solely by justice in this affair and they have stood between a gross wrong and the most absolute justice."

Again there was silence.

"And the teachers of this institution," he said, "cannot condescend to this commencement and they have no right to do so under the law."

In the pause that ensued every teacher on the stage and every student arose en masse, and accompanied by nearly all the audience, started to leave the room.

The governor stood in amazement at such a spectacle, a blushing man, his cheeks gray-headed, men present never remembered such a spectacle of silent indignation hurled at the chief executive.

Professor Chappell stepped quickly forward and in a few words called back the audience, the governor meanwhile uttering some remarks, the purport of which was not clearly understood.

Then Fleming Duffin asked the privilege of a word, and stated that the trustees merely meant to do justice to the young lady.

The benediction was pronounced and the exercises were over. But the most humiliating experience yet remained for Georgia's chief executive.

Here Governor Atkinson has been the idol of the college. The students enthusiastically supported him in their own way in his race for governor, and when he was inaugurated they moved Heaven and earth to get permission to attend the exercises in a body. But today as the governor stepped from the stage he was met by 200 angry, tearful faces. Ignoring all rules of courtesy, the young maids hissed him to the echo.

The senior class immediately held session and unanimously refused to receive their diplomas from the board of trustees.

Before this incident occurred, Prof. Chappell had been re-elected president and all the old members of the faculty had been re-elected.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Weems, returned from a visit to Anniston, on Saturday.

Alabama Educational Association.

To the teachers of Calhoun County:

For the first time in ten years the Alabama Educational Association, which is the state organization of white teachers, will meet in easy reach of you. The session will be held in the D. & D. Institute at Talladega, July 2, 3 & 4. Now is your opportunity to become identified with this intelligent and powerful body. Here you will extend your acquaintance, form new friendships, learn better methods of teaching, broaden your views, hear of better fields of labor, and possibly procure better positions with better salaries.

This has been the experience of many teachers who have attended in the past. It is the opportunity of a life time for the ambitious, struggling teacher, who has dedicated his life to the noble work and who desires to rise in the profession.

The annual membership fee is only $1.00. Send this amount to J. B. Graham, Vice President A. E. A., and Chairman of Entertainment Committee, Talladega, with your name and address.

In addition to the A. E. A., the Alabama Chattanooga Assembly will convene July 2, and continue to July 28. The best platform talent of America will be there, including Talmage and Jones.

The best board can be obtained for $1.00 per day, $4.00 to $6.00 per week, and $15.00 to $20.00 per month.

Railroads will give reduced rates. Beginning on July 5, a Summer Institute for teachers will begin in connection with the Chattanooga Assembly and continue two weeks under the direction of Prin. J. B. Cunningham, of the Birmingham Public Schools, Dr. Geo. R. McNeil, of La Fayette College, and others equally distinguished. Talladega should be the Mecca of all who want intellectual enjoyment and growth.

For particulars address: J. B. Graham, Supt. Education, Talladega County, Ala.

I hereby endorse the above letter and urge the teachers of this county to take advantage of the splendid opportunities afforded. Send the $1.00 membership fee to me or to J. B. Graham, Talladega. This should be attended to immediately so that the local committee may know how many to expect.

L. B. Miller, Supt. Ed. Calhoun County.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Cunningham, of Dinwiddie, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Niles Junction she was afflicted with Terrible paralysis of the limbs, would not move, and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery, and it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results. It cost her free at W. B. Arnold's drug store. Regular size 50c, and 10c.

Chas. Albert Weaver has finished the transcript in the case of the State vs. Joe Barton, and it will be submitted to the supreme court this week. The transcript is the longest ever carried from this county and covers one hundred twenty six pages.

I have on hand now by my stock account about $8,300 worth of goods. Most all of these goods were bought since last October and I shall close them out during the Summer for the money as cheap as you can buy anywhere in this section of country. I wish to sell every article in my house before the fall season, preparatory to putting in a complete and an entirely new line of goods. Call for our cash prices. PENTON ROWAN.

DELAYS are dangerous. A dollar spent for Hood's Sarsaparilla now may prevent illness which will be expensive and hard to bear. Now is the time to take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, relieve constipation and assist digestion. 25c.

Joe H. Francis, of New York city, is in Jacksonville for a stay of two weeks.

Mrs. Cason, of Anniston, is on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Weems.

Mr. F. A. Weems, Jr., of Rome, Ga., was down Sunday to see Miss Alice.

Miss Hannah Crook is visiting her aunt, Mrs. O. M. Reynolds, in Anniston.

Dennis J. Jenkins is now in Jacksonville, prepared to clean, bind or mend clothing. Also cleans ladies' dresses. Shop at Jerry Crook's.

Miss Est. Hames spent part of last week with friends in Oxford.

ILLINOIS DEMOCRACY.

ASSEMBLED IN STATE CONVENTION.

Pass Resolutions in Favor of the Free and Unlimited Coinage of Silver, and Ask for a National Convention.

A Democratic state convention of Illinois was held last Thursday to consider and define the position of the Democratic party of Illinois on the question of finance.

The convention was large and enthusiastic. It was called to order by the chairman of the Democratic central committee. The session was harmonious, and after several able speeches had been delivered, the convention declared the Democracy of Illinois in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1.

A resolution was passed requesting the Democratic national committee to call a Democratic national convention to consider the money question not later than August, 1895. If the national committee refuses to call such a convention, then the Democratic state committees are requested to take concurrent action with the Democratic state convention of Illinois in calling such a convention. Delegates were elected to attend a national convention in event it is held.

IN MEMORIAM.

John A. Christian.

An earnest, brave, consistent, consecrated life is all that is worth living. It is the only life that leaves behind good impressions, some deeds of praise for mirrors unto men. Such a life terminated, so far as time can

THE REPUBLICAN

Established in 1837, is the official journal of Calhoun, one of the largest and wealthiest counties in Alabama, and in which are located the towns of Jacksonville, Anniston, Oxford, Oxanema and Piedmont.

CIRCULATION

It has a larger guaranteed county circulation in Calhoun than any other paper.

TO ADVERTISERS

The subscribers of the REPUBLICAN are the best people in the county, a class of people with whom it pays to advertise. Than it there is no better advertising medium in this section of Alabama.

THE REPUBLICAN

MINISTER RANSOM is on his way home from Mexico on sick leave. He was taken sick while en route to Mexico and has at no time been able to transact the business of the legation.

THERE is no longer a doubt but a majority of the papers in Alabama are in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. They continue to step over on the silver side.

In all probability the Age-Herald will not again question the Democracy of Judge James M. Arnold. If the editor of the Age-Herald can show as good a Democratic record as Judge Arnold has shown, he will stand the test.

BIRMINGHAM is to be congratulated for her pluck in securing the first session of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers of America ever held in the South. The delegates number 500, and will be in session two weeks.

MR. CLEVELAND must be fearfully worried over the rise in prices. He must believe it calamitous. Did he not write that low prices favored the laboring man and does he not realize that whatever operates against the laborer, saps the strength of the country? You should keep prices down, Mr. Cleveland, so that the laborer may enjoy them.

Is the dedication of the monument to the confederate dead, Chicago has the proud distinction of being the first northern city to do honor to the patriotism and valor of the confederate soldier who died in defense of the cause which he believed to be right.

Chicago is from year to year pressing New York for the place as the largest city in the union, and the Americans on this side of Mason and Dixon's line will hereafter feel more interest in the strides which the city of Chicago is making.

WINTER gets quite warm in Jacksonville during the day, our nights are always delightfully pleasant. Such a thing as snow-stroke has never been known here. This is quite an item in our favor, when we remember that last Sunday there were seventeen fatal cases of sunstroke in Philadelphia. Those fellows up there may down us on questions of finance, but when it comes to delightful weather all the months in the year, they can't hold us a light.

When the committee appointed to locate a location for Howard College failed to accept the proposition to locate that institution in Anniston, it made a fearful mistake.

We hope the trustees of the Girls Industrial School will not make the same mistake.

Anniston is indeed an ideal location for this institution of learning. She has advantages which no other competing place can offer. She has made a liberal proposition for the location of the school, and we sincerely hope she will get it.

The Selma Times has the following item in reference to Dr. Clarke, who was so well and favorably known in Calhoun county: "A very handsome life-size picture of Dr. C. J. Clarke was purchased yesterday and it will be placed in a conspicuous place in the Clarke public school building for colored people. This is a deserved compliment on the part of our colored citizens to one of the purest, best men Selma ever produced. The picture was from the art studio of Harrison, the best photographer in the state."

As any farmer says, it is the most abundant year that was the most prosperous period in the history of the silver dollar and was absolutely on the gold standard. When has the farmer and the most trouble he will tell you that it was between 1870 and 1880. During the entire decade we had not a single silver dollar and were absolutely on the gold standard. When has the farmer and the most trouble he will tell you that it was between 1870 and 1880. During the entire decade we had not a single silver dollar and were absolutely on the gold standard.

Had Mr. Patterson desired to do so, he could not have made an argument more in favor of bimetallicism in the United States. He says that the most prosperous period of our history was from 1850 to 1860. We are not old enough to recall those times, but we are willing to trust history, and say that in this Mr. Josiah Patterson is right. This being the case let us see what laws governed the coinage of the two metals. They were admitted to our mints on equal terms. Mr. Patterson says we were on a gold standard at this time. Mr. Patterson knows that statement to be false. He knows full well that the gold standard never existed in this country until the year 1873 when silver was demonetized. He knows that the same fundamental coinage laws existed from 1850 to 1860 that had existed from the foundation of this republic. He knows, that those laws were based upon the free coinage of both metals. He seizes the opportunity, however to pervert the truth by saying that we were on a gold basis, when he must know that we were not only using our own silver dollar, but were using those of Mexico and Spain as well; and silver dollars were legal tender in payment of all debts. Always speak the truth, Mr. Patterson, and please speak the whole of it.

But Mr. Josiah Patterson says that the farmer has had most trouble during the last sixteen years. Exactly so, Mr. Patterson. Silver men all over the Union agree with you in this. Again you dodge from the truth as if it scalded you. Why not tell it all? Why not say that in the last sixteen years not a piece of foreign silver coin has done duty in our country? Why not speak the truth and confess that during those sixteen years we have had silver gagged by only allowing it the place of legal tender money in five dollar payments? Why not acknowledge that by the devilish fraud of 1873 silver was demonetized, and that the farmer has therefore suffered most in these last sixteen years?

The American people are not satisfied, Mr. Patterson, with their experiences of the last sixteen years. You say they have been disastrous. Suppose you join the people and make a fight for the reinstatement of the coinage laws as they existed from 1850 to 1860, those years of prosperity to which you refer? The friends of silver are willing. See if you can get permission of Mr. Cleveland, to aid in this great fight which the people are waging.

To Hon. W. C. Oates, Governor of Alabama—There seems to be quite a difference of opinion among the people in this section as to your position on the question of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and as to whether you will ask the Democratic nomination for Governor next year.

Some say you voted for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 20 to 1, that you will favor it at a ratio of 16 to 1 in preference to the single gold standard. Others say you will not.

Some say you will not be a candidate for Governor next year, for the reason you stated during your campaign last year that you would not ask a second term. Others say they believe you will ask a second term.

In order that you may be properly understood, if it is agreeable for you to do so, we respectfully ask that you answer the following questions through the columns of the REPUBLICAN:

Are you in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1?

Will you be a candidate next year for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Alabama, or, as announced during your canvass last year, will you be a candidate to succeed Senator Pugh in the United States Senate?

The bimetallic convention in Memphis next week will be presided over by Speaker Crisp, the elegant Southern gentleman who has easily won the position as the recognized leader on the Democratic side of the House in Congress.

Among those who will address the convention are Senators Morgan, Daniel and Voorhees—a trio for ability and statesmanship that cannot be equaled in the United States Senate.

When we remember that the gold standard there has been an increase in one year in tax valuations in New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and a few other Eastern States, and that the average annual cost of $410, 510, 980, it is not surprising that the organized chambers of commerce in New York and Philadelphia should issue addresses to the business men of the South urging that they give no encouragement to the restoration of silver to its position as a standard money metal.

But it is astonishing beyond measure that Southern business men and Southern newspapers should favor the continuance of a policy which has lost to the southern and western states during the last year the astonishing sum of five hundred million dollars.

We confess that we cannot understand how any Southern men can conscientiously favor a system of finance which will certainly make his own section and people grog and poorer and poorer every year to benefit the great money centers.

It is not only a theory that the contraction of the currency increases the purchasing power of the dollar and lessens the value of all property and products, and thus benefits only the rich, but it has been thoroughly demonstrated during the past year.

The tax returns show an alarming decrease in values in the North and West, and an enormous increase among the rich in the money centers.

The present system of finance was tested from 1873 to 1878. That is, the coinage of silver was stopped entirely, as at present, during that time. Its effect was thoroughly tested, and it proved so disastrous to all interests outside of the money centers, that in 1878, under the Bland-Allison act, the limited coinage of silver was commenced.

There is no reasonable hope why the present system should be less disastrous than was that from 1873 to 1878.

A change from the present system is an absolute necessity. But instead of enacting a makeshift, as was done in 1878, we should have the free and unlimited coinage of silver as we had prior to 1873.

Already a large number of the Democratic senators and representatives who voted to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman bill, see the absolute necessity of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. It is a necessity, and the people are going to have it.

It is only a short while since Mr. Cleveland, in writing a letter to a Chicago banquet committee, said that the farmers and the laborer had great cause for rejoicing over the fact that prices were low. That while the prices received for produce were off, this was more than compensated for in the low prices at which the necessities of life could be purchased.

Mr. Cleveland said this in a letter. The press dispatcher carried the letter throughout the length and breadth of the country. It passed before the eyes of his worshippers, who accept him as an oracle, and they seized upon it as an argument of unusual weight. For several weeks they told the farmer or every occasion, that an ideal state of affairs existed. "Why," they said, "it is true cotton is down but look at cotton goods, at flour, at tools, at iron. Don't you see that you are not hurt?" But the farmer saw that he was hurt. And the farmer listened at their speeches as he listened to the wind. Even the argument of great Grover fell short of the mark. A little rise in prices takes place, and while Grover does not write a letter—being stopped by the one just referred to—he sends out his lieutenants to tell the people that a rise in prices is a good thing, and that his safe management of affairs publicize is the cause of the rise. But what will the farmer say now? Will he believe that Grover is right when he claims that high prices are a benefit, or will they believe that he was right when he said low prices benefited the farmer and the laborer? Will they not believe that Mr. Cleveland is in a desperate strait and that he is trying to stem the tide that is fast bearing him beyond reach of confidence and esteem. Will they not conclude that his efforts are to blind, not to enlighten, to enthrall, not to free? Will they believe this way today, and yonder tomorrow by such varying and inconsistent statements? No. The farmer and the laborer of America are convinced that Mr. Cleveland, though he may be ever so honest in his opinion, lives in an atmosphere, and is surrounded by associations, which are poisonous to their prosperity. They no longer listen to his voice, because they believe that it proceeds from a breast in which there remains no sympathy for their condition.

16 Boils at Once

Hood's Sarsaparilla Purifies the Blood and Restores Health.

Mr. F. W. Stewart, Wilmet, N. Dak.

"I had 16 boils at once, and was very much troubled. I got worse and worse, and was unable to do any work. I tried many remedies, but nothing did me any good. I then tried Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking four bottles the boils had all healed, and the scars had disappeared. I received Hood's Sarsaparilla from a friend, and it has not since been troubled. In December, 1894, my skin was covered with boils, and I was very much troubled. It has always been the object of the proprietors of the

PALACE SHOE STORE

To keep the most carefully selected stock, not only in Anniston, but in Alabama. This Spring they have gone into the great shoe markets of the world, determined to "outdo" if possible, their former record. What success they have met with is for the public to say. A glance at their handsome store-room is a most refreshing treat. With long lines of shelves, reaching to the ceiling, on which are tastily arranged a most perfect line of

MENS' LADIES' AND CHILDRENS' SHOES.

They can easily fit the fancy of any buyer who may visit them. They have Oxfords, in black and tan, Sandals, Mens' and Childrens' tan shoes, the very sight of which are restful to the tired feet in these hot spring months.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

THE ONLY

ADMITTED

READ RULE XV.

"Articles that are in any way dangerous or offensive, also patent medicines, nostrums, and empirical preparations, whose ingredients are concealed, will not be admitted to the Exposition."

Why was Ayer's Sarsaparilla admitted? Because it is not a patent medicine, not a nostrum, nor a secret preparation, not dangerous, not an experiment, and because it is all that a family medicine should be.

The republicans have cinched themselves square on top of the financial fence. There is no room up there for any other party or faction. Democrats, therefore, cannot straddle, if they would. There is no neutral ground for them to occupy unless they root with John Sherman and his gang. They must either be for free silver or for gold monometallism. The Memphis "Sound money" convention made the issue. The advocates of free silver have accepted the challenge. The lines of battle are drawn. Every body must come out into the open. There can be no skulking, or dodging. Cowardly makeshifts have seen their last days. Those newspapers which expect to carry water on both shoulders will undertake an equilibrium feat impossible of accomplishment.—The Chattahoochee News.

As a Doctor Does.

The one great fault with all Liver Pills is that they act suddenly and sharply instead of quietly and continuously. They produce a violent relief and then leave you weakened, with an empty stomach and no appetite for food. This is not what a doctor does.

Every physician prescribes a powerful remedy for a disordered liver, but he orders also a cathartic tonic, which acts as a purifier, restoring the appetite, rousing up the system, and making you feel like a new creature.

This is exactly what is done by Ramon's Tonic Liver Pills and Ramon's Tonic Pellets. Two boxes, two separate medicines, and both at the cost of one. A three weeks' treatment for 25c. Ask your druggist about it.

But no one doubts that democratic victory in November will bring us free silver coinage upon an honest basis called for by the Chicago platform and no one doubts that Mr. Clarke will be foremost in advocating such a measure, standing side by side with Senator Morgan. Mobile Register September 22, 1892.

The above was written before the editor of the Register was appointed postmaster at Mobile. No paper in the state is now more bitter toward silver democrats than the Register. The above is a fair sample of the promises made to the people before and after Cleveland's election.—Hamilton News-Press.

Royal Baking Powder

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Mrs. Renwick. "Mother, I won't," she stoutly declared the rebel look on her face. "But what will he think?" "What do you care?" "It will matter little to you or me what he thinks," said Kenneth. "All I know is that he shall cross this threshold. Give him his face and tell him to go!" Mrs. Renwick and Joyce looked at each other. Undoubtedly the captain was master of the situation. If the choice was between his capriciousness and defiance, what was to be done? At that moment, however, there was a slight rustle downstairs. "The doctor has come!" cried Joyce, excitedly. "With such a pretty little horse and phaeton!" "Oh, Ken, I'm sure he isn't old, and he doesn't take snuff. Oh, I'm so sorry I didn't catch a glimpse of him!" "He has come, has he?" said the captain. "Then I'll go to about his business." Mrs. Ogden, the fat landlady, put in her head at this juncture. "Please, mem, the doctor," said she. "Tell him—" hoarsely shouted Kenneth, flinging the pillows right and left. But before he could complete his sentence the door opened and a tall young lady, in a blue cloth skirt and a pretty plumed hat, came in, with a flat morose expression on her face. "Miss Perry?" he exclaimed, staring at her from the sofa, with a face suddenly lighted into new brightness and enthusiasm. "How kind of you to remember me! You are acquainted with my mother, are you not?" Joyce, this is Miss Perry."

The tall young lady looked composedly around her. "I am sorry to hear of your illness," said Kenneth, stretching his neck to get a look at the door, which was still slightly ajar, "where is the doctor?" They told me he was coming up."

"The beautiful lady, sat down and gently took Kenneth Renwick's wrist in her delicate fingers. "If you are the doctor," said she, "I have the goodness to remain quiet still for a few moments while I ascertain the pulse and temperature."

Capt. Renwick was struck dumb. An electric thrill seemed to dart through every pulse and vein. But Joyce's eyes sparkled, and the dimples came out about her mouth. "You're a doctor?" "You're a doctor?" she cried. "You're a doctor?" Dr. Barton nodded, still intent on the emaciated face of the watch. "Ancestral Barton. They call me Perry for short. Capt. Renwick always called me Miss Perry. I don't believe he knew I had any other name."

"And you are really a doctor?" said Joyce. "With Kenneth's boy's consent?" Dr. Barton examined her patient's tongue, listened at his lungs, and found some chronic hypertrophies in her chest-lungs. Then she moved out some gray papers, or, at least, old papers, and left her directions in the most businesslike way in the world. "I shall look in again this evening," she said. "It seems to be nothing more than a severe cold. But I do not let a doctor let a patient go until he is well."

"I put myself entirely in your charge," said Capt. Renwick, with a contented air. "I'm perfectly certain that I shall get well."

"I thought you were going to send the doctor about his business," maliciously whispered Joyce.

"But I didn't know what sort of a doctor it was," returned the captain. Pneumonia did not set in after all. Dr. Barton proved a true prophet, and soon dispelled the heavy cold. But Capt. Renwick had yet another ailment in the region of the heart.

"Mother," he said, coaxingly, "wasn't I right? Isn't she lovely?" "The sweetest girl I ever saw," Mrs. Renwick warmly answered, "and the most talented."

"And if, mother—" "You will be the most fortunate man in the world," said Mrs. Renwick. Capt. Renwick made the best use of his time and although Dr. Barton's summer vacation was over, she lingered at Ken's, and in the privacy of her water-lilies, she still continued to make many appointments for seeing him, and when he returned to the Seventh artillery he was an engaged man.

"And after the last of November," he says, "Dr. Barton will be my family physician for life."—Saturday Night.

"There had been but two strong men in the city's most tragic on the city—Bart's Horn."

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Fitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paragoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guaranteed thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting, Sour Stomach, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children. Dr. J. C. Osmond, Lowell, Mass.

Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me. Dr. A. A. Adams, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as 'Castoria' products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it." Minor Happenings of the Week

GATHERED BY THE REPUBLICAN'S ABLE CORPS OF CORRESPONDENTS.

PIEDMONT.

Piedmont is full of visitors who came to witness the commencement exercises of the Seminary.

The commencement sermon was preached on Sunday, in the Cumberland Presbyterian church, by Rev. J. W. Caldwell of Huntsville, and was a most magnificent discourse and an intellectual feast. On Monday night the Primary department gave an entertainment at the Seminary, which was very much enjoyed. Special mention should be made of a recitation by Miss Daisy Harris, a little daughter of Rev. G. D. Harris, which displayed elocutionary talent unusual in one so young. On Tuesday the exercises were made interesting by a debate on "foreign immigration," by music by Miss Walker's class, and declamations by the young men. And the audience was also charmed by a brilliant address, by the gifted young pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. J. W. Bradford. His theme was—"How your own row," and was a marvel of lofty thought, couched in the most polished language. On Tuesday night the young ladies Lyceum rendered a play called "Rebecca's Triumph," in a very creditable manner.

Today the Literary address will be delivered at the church by Rev. Hines, of Lebanon, Tenn.

To-night Mrs. Little holds an Art League, and says it is the best lot of pictures she has ever had to display. I had no idea how many there are, for they hang three deep around the walls of the spacious parlor. It is very evident that only talent, application, and a good teacher could have turned out such a fine lot of work. The exhibit is made from the work of Miss Geneva Johnson, now Art teacher in the North Alabama College at Fort Payne, Mrs. Miller of Gaylesville, Miss Mary Glover, Miss Josie Reed, Emory Faust, George Waring, Miss Mamie Monahan, Miss Mary Hood, Miss Birdie Craig, and Miss Walker. They are in crayon, india ink, pasted and oil, and the larger part are from nature. While they are all lovely I must have space to describe one large canvass, which caused my heart to swell and my eyes to fill when I looked upon it. It is the work of Miss Birdie Craig, a very talented young artist, who is yet a Miss in short dresses and long curls. Upon a chair hangs a coat of "rebel gray," and a faded knit scarf. Against the chair leans a scabbard and a sword. Upon a stand lie an old cane with leather strap, a roll of confederate bills, a bible with two bullet holes in it, an old razor and a comb, and an open pocket needle-book. The models were gotten together with difficulty. Gen. "Tige" Anderson kindly lent his coat in which he expects to be buried. The flag is the one presented by Miss Cleon Clay (Mrs. Clifton) to Co. G. 3rd Reg. Ala. Cavalry, at Huntsville when they marched away to the war. The sword which leans against old flag was the property of Captain Oliver Stewart, and has seen service. The razor was found on the Manassas battle field; the bible and needle book were carried through the war by H. W. Glover, and in the needle book is to be seen one rusty needle. There is no picture look about it. One seems to see those relics actually lying before him. Every blade, and fold and crease of the coat is there, while the drooping folds of the old battle flag look as though a breeze might lift them.

Mr. T. R. Sparks went with basket and embalming fluid up to Wheeler's Springs this morning, to embalm the remains of Mr. Henry Wilson of Columbiana who went up there this spring in wretched health, and died early this morning.

OXFORD.

It just makes me tired—this everlasting howl of "sound money." The single gold standard advocates, orators, and newspapers keep up the everlasting din of "sound money." Well who is contending for "veal-eaten, rotten-at-the-heart money"? Why did not Gov. Oates say that Alabama was solid for the single gold standard? I'll tell you. It is because he knew that it was not so. He knows well enough that Alabama is for the gold and silver standard just as it was from the foundation of the government down to 1873. He knows that was "sound money."

Gov. Oates knows also that when silver is remonetized we will still have sound money. Who do these people expect to fool with their cries of "sound money," any how? Why, the "veriest fool in the whole of the bi-metallic, free silver throng knows what these people mean."

All, from the least to the greatest, know that they mean gold monometallism. Which makes silver a commodity just like peas, corn, cotton and potatoes. The gold standard, which deprives the farmer, the wage earner, and all people except the married aristocracy of one half of their money. But the people are not fools. They know that by "sound money" is meant half money rations.

Listen now for a great arlo, since Bryan said at Jackson Miss., a few days ago, that he would not support a single gold standard man if nominated by the next national convention. Bryan is an extremist, and there are extremists on the other side.

Is there a man or a woman or a child that believes that Mr. Cleveland would support a democrat, who was nominated on a platform with a silver plank favoring the free and unlimited coinage at 16 to 1? Not much! Mr. Cleveland and lots of other northern, and New England gold bugs would just step across the line and vote the Republican ticket straight. And let me tell you, they are, heart and soul, with the republican party in the most important issues the people have had to face in the last half century.

Well, they are going to have the opportunity of deserting the democratic party. There will be a silver plank in the next democratic national platform, and it won't be set up edgewise either. It will be laid flat down, and it will be so broad that it can't be straddled, even by a fellow with legs like a pair of togs—the fellow with long legs and short thighs, bald head and no eyes.

SAM SLIM.

CHOCOLCCO.

Last Sabbath we had some fine Sabbath-school talks at Harmony, by Mr. S. A. Russell, Dr. Jno. A. Scott, and Hon. Joseph Cartell. There was a large crowd who attended. One who attended, because so much enthused that he started home and forgot his carriage. Dr. Davis can give you any information in regard to this person. The Chocolocco Sabbath school cooperated with that of Harmony in the rally.

Miss Brothers, of Cane Creek, is visiting the family of Mr. J. E. Downing.

Miss Nanie Watson, of Weavers, is visiting Mrs. A. B. Scarborough.

Mr. Clark Snow, of Oxford, has been here selling hawthorns.

One Wesley Moreland knocked his father down with a chair a few days ago, and whipped him severely. We dislike to chronicle such things as this, but we think that when a young man acts this way, the world should know it.

WEAVERS.

The battle with Gen. Green continues unabated, and we have a little too much rain to conquer his forces.

The wheat crop is being harvested, and we think the yield will be only moderate, though the recent rise in flour makes home raised wheat look better.

The oat crop promises to be good. The repairs for the rock crusher were put in last week, and seem to be doing good work, with the exception of the elevator, which gives some trouble.

Dr. B. S. Evans, of White Plains, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Boyd, of Jacksonville, spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Jno. Alexander, this week.

Mrs. Wallace and daughter, of Coopers, Ga., are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Marston.

Miss Nanie Watson is visiting her Aunt, Mrs. A. B. Scarborough, of Chocolocco.

Miss Clemmie Weaver, who attended the past session of the S. F. U., is at home.

During the rain storm Tuesday night, a cow and yearling were killed by lightning. They belonged to the Ford family, who reside about one mile west of this place.

The health of our community is fairly good.

The June crop of peaches have ripened sufficiently to afford delicacies for the table.

OXFORD.

We had a good rain last night, and this morning vegetation looks as the rose buds of spring time.

Miss Sue Doris repeated her delightful concert Tuesday night and it is not necessary to say that all who were present enjoyed this second performance of the little folks.

These are red letter days for the Oxford Lake Line. Pleinies at the lake are almost a daily occurrence, and the electric cars are kept busy carrying the people to and from this delightful resort.

The two story brick building, which is being erected by Capt. Barry, is rapidly nearing completion. It will be a splendid structure when completed and will add much to Oxford's appearance as a business place.

The pupils of Oxford College are very busy getting ready for the commencement exercises which begin the 20th of June.

The Calhoun Rifles are having practice drills that they may be ready for the brigade encampment at Mobile the 20th of June.

Sheriff Ed. G. Caldwell was in town this week shaking hands with his friends.

Rev. J. H. Leslie has been conducting a protracted meeting at Oxana for the past week.

Peaches will soon be ripe and then we are going to see our friends who have peach trees.

DE ARMANVILLE.

A refreshing rain fell here Tuesday night. Crops in this section are looking well save where they are in the grass—a few places are badly in the grass.

Prof. Geo. W. Bonner, who has been teaching the past session in Oxana, Fla., will arrive at home today. His family has been here several weeks.

The Sunday school rally at Harmony church last Sunday, was a grand success. Able speeches were made by Messrs. Sam. Russell and Joseph Cartell, and by Rev. John Scott. Harmony Sunday School is one of the best county schools in the state. It is under the superintendency of Mr. Jas. Morris.

The fruit tree agents are again in the land. Fruit is a very "necesse" crop in this section of recent years.

The red bugs are giving foul mothers extra duties. Their presence is felt, not seen.

Miss Celeste Bradford, sister of Mrs. Jno. P. Story, has been very ill for the past few days.

Farm laborers are scarce here. The idling hordes around the cities and towns cannot be induced to come to the country—mostly on account of the "sisters."

LADIGA.

After a long and unavoidable silence, I will give you a few briefs from this place.

Wheat-cutting is now on hand. There is only a tolerably good crop.

The majority of our farmers are working over their crops for the second time. We have had just enough rain and sunshine to make everything grow. Crops are all looking fine. Have heard one farmer say that his cotton had squares on it.

Quite a number of Ladigans went whorlberry hunting last Sunday but as they have promised not to do so again, I will not this time give any names.

J. D. Amberson carried quite a crowd one day last week, to gather berries; they found a great many but they were all green.

Mrs. Johnson, with her daughter Mrs. Brown, of Cherokee county, were visitors at Mr. Love Stewarts last week.

Miss Ollie Woodliff, one of Gadsden's most attractive young ladies, and Miss Madge Brewster, of Piedmont, were visiting your correspondent last week.

Our brother F. S. Bedell, of Cherokee, Ga., has been with us most of this week.

E. C. Dobbs, of Piedmont, has been among his friends here this week.

We notice that our DeArmanville correspondent has offered to furnish teachers for a "school for scandal." Now if there is any one that wants a teacher of that kind, I think they can be well suited here. We have some professionals in that line "to let." We furnish them cheap and with strong recommendations for they are old hands at the business.

We enjoyed our first peaches today and are indebted to Mrs. Love Stewart for them. They were delightful.

MINK.

We have only one case of sickness in our entire community, and that is not a serious one.

We had a very sad accident to happen here last week. Elder Holden was hoeing in his field when a limb of a tree fell on him, and killed him almost instantly. Brother Holden was an able Baptist preacher, and preached for the church at New Hopeville. The bereaved family have the sympathies of the entire community.

There was quite a novel wedding here Monday. Win Usry and Miss Crim were the contracting parties, and both walked over to Elder G. S. Booser's where the marriage took place. After marching over to Brother Booser's and having the knot tied, the happy couple walked home, the bride leaning on the arm of the groom.

Most every body is up with farm work. Wheat cutting is now engaging the attention of our farmers.

MORRISVILLE.

Rev. W. S. Griffin filled his regular appointment at Cane Creek church last Sunday, and preached a very able sermon. His subject was Repentance and the temptation of the Savior.

Farmers are very busy killing grass and other vermin that hinders the growth of their crops.

Oats that were sowed on good ground are looking well—farmers are doing well and the prospect for something to eat is very good at this time.

Mr. E. A. Womack, the merchant prince of Central Egypt, came up last Sunday and spent some time with his kindred and friends in town. Call again, Alvey, we are always glad to see you.

Many thanks to my Fergusonville friend for the interest he is taking in my future welfare. I will accept his invitation just as soon as convenient to do so, but there seems to be something strange about his corn tasseling so early.

Health in this part of the county is good.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. C. Calhoun, druggist, Beaverhill, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with LaGrippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or home without it." Get a free trial at W. B. Abory's drug store.

I have now hand now by my stock account about $8,000 worth of goods. Most all of these goods were bought since last October and I shall close them out during the Summer for the money as cheap as you can buy anywhere in this section of country. I wish to sell every article in my house before the fall season preparatory to putting in a complete and an entirely new line of goods. Call for our cash prices. PEYTON ROWAN.

BIMETALLISM.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING IN ANNISTON.

SPEECHES BY HON. J. H. BANKHEAD AND PERCY CLARK.

The Calhoun County Bimetallic Club Organized and Officers Elected.

On last Saturday afternoon a large number of Calhoun's citizens gathered in the Noble Street opera house, in the city of Anniston, to hear the speeches on the silver question, that had been announced in the newspapers for two or three days previous.

Notwithstanding the unseasonable hour—2:30 p. m.—and the intensely hot weather, three hundred listeners were present, and if the close attention and the frequent bursts of applause with which they greeted the speakers signified any thing it was that the entire audience was in favor of the restoration of the white metal to the place as a primary money—the place it occupied until the demonetization act of 1873.

Mr. S. B. Trapp, one of the leading wholesale merchants of Alabama, and a man whom every one recognizes as one of the sterling democrats of the state, acted as chairman, and in addressing the meeting, prior to introducing the speakers, he said among other things, that it had recently been said, and by those who pretended to be in position to know, that the so-called silver craze which was agitating Alabama and the South would soon pass by and be lost in oblivion; that the leaders in the movement were disappointed and disgruntled politicians. Said Mr. Trapp: "Let those who really harbor such opinions as these, continue to fan themselves into this sleep of ignorant contentment and imagined security. But let me say to you, my fellow citizens, that this great movement of the American people which they denigrate as a craze, is a struggle for the liberties of the constitution, and is as far-reaching as the very bounds of this great union of American States. Neither are its leaders politicians in the front rank of this great movement are public men, farmers, merchants, laborers, all standing shoulder to shoulder. The struggle will not end until the free and unlimited coinage of silver is restored. I might say further that there will be no straddling by the democratic party in the future. The next national platform will embrace a financial plank that will read what it means, and mean what it reads, and on this platform will the hosts of democracy march to victory."

Mr. Trapp then introduced as the first speaker, Mr. Percy Clark, a young Alabamian, who for several years has been connected with the leading democratic papers of Washington.

Mr. Clark, in the beginning of his address paid a beautiful tribute to old Calhoun, the parent of John Pelham, of Win Henry Furney, of John T. Morgan. He then addressed himself to the great question of the day. The speaker declared that the free and unlimited coinage of silver was democracy, that gold monometallism was republicanism; the one struggling to alleviate the condition of the common people, the other attempting to bind about their wrists and ankles the fetters of accumulated debts. He quoted from numerous democratic speakers in support of this proposition, and especially from Mr. Carlisle, who has recently and suddenly changed front on this all-important question. Mr. Clark attacked the newspapers of the south that had allowed themselves to be influenced by the administration and by the gold of New York, and had deserted the cause for which they once professed undying fealty. He branded them as traitors, and said that the rapid decrease in their circulation showed him too plainly, that the people had lost confidence in them. Mr. Clark spoke for thirty minutes when he gave way to Hon. Jno. H. Bankhead, congress-man from the sixth district.

Capt. Bankhead was happily introduced by Mr. Trapp, and as he came to the front of the stage, a round of applause broke from the audience, which gave him assurances that his fight for silver in congress was thoroughly appreciated by the people of Calhoun county.

Everywhere we go we find some one who has been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the greatest curative agent. It is the great blood purifier and nerve tonic.

Captain Bankhead spoke for two hours. His speech was as strong and powerful a presentation of the silver question, and as complete an overthrow of the sophistries of gold-bugism as has been heard in Alabama. It was logical, it was fair, it was without passion, and so earnest and vital, that at the conclusion of almost every sentence there came a generous response from his hearers. One by one, the distinguished speaker took up the arguments of the monometallists, and after tearing from them the attractive garments which disguised them, in their nakedness he held them up before his eager listeners as illustrations of rankest deception. He asked that any present who desired to have him explain any point, propound the question, as it would not worry him, but rather afford him pleasure. After having spoken an hour and a half, the speaker said that he would close but there were one or two points he desired to touch on, and the audience cried to him to continue as they would be glad to listen for hours. We regret that we cannot publish Capt. Bankhead's speech. We will soon have him with us again in Calhoun, and we desire to ask every voter in the county to make it a point to hear him.

After the speaking Mr. J. J. Willet announced that it was the desire of a number to form a bimetallic club. Capt. James Crook, of Jacksonville, was elected president, and Mr. Archibald Henderson was elected secretary. The club was called the Calhoun County Bimetallic Club, and the secretary was authorized to prepare blanks of membership and send them all over the county. At the next meeting of the club it is expected that there will be more than five hundred members.

A committee was appointed to select delegates to the Memphis convention, and this committee reports the following names:

J. J. Willet, E. E. G. Roberts, Arch Henderson, J. L. Simpson, D. T. Goodwin, J. W. Lapsley, Frank Nelson, Jr., John Pelham, John M. Caldwell, J. S. Meering, W. L. McCaa, J. L. White, T. R. Guthrie, E. N. Wood, N. H. Reid, A. F. McGhee, M. Markstein, D. B. Barnes, J. S. Walker, J. G. Tyson, J. H. Savage, R. P. Thompson, Jno. L. Dodson, J. V. Lyles, W. W. Whitesides, H. C. Gamels, T. W. Ayers, P. D. Ross, J. J. Skelton, J. J. Arnold, A. J. Cross, Daniel Wilkins, A. M. Landers, R. L. Vansandt, S. D. G. Brothers, T. C. Davenport, J. D. Arnold, J. E. Crook, L. D. Miller, T. M. Roberts, Daniel Sewell, James Williamson, James Crook, J. T. DeArman, Emmett F. Crook, W. T. Edmondson, L. N. Downing, W. J. Scott, Geo. D. Harris, P. C. Patterson, John C. Watson, E. J. Downing, J. T. Vincent, Marion Savage, T. S. Gray, C. B. Burke, E. J. Harris, M. W. Woodruff, P. A. Hollingsworth.

SCHECKS SPRINGS.

Rev. G. M. Phillips preached at Angel Grove church last Sunday.

The Misses Lapsley and Misses Houser, of Anniston, are here for the summer.

Messes Billingsworth and McLean, of Anniston, are spending a few days here.

R. L. Walker, of Gadsden, visited the springs last Sunday on a bicycle.

The family of Mr. Edgar Wilkins of Alexandria, has moved here to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Braxton Webster, of Bartlett, Texas, are visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

The following from Jacksonville were visitors to the springs last Sunday: Mrs. Goodlett, Miss Emma Goodlett, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Roberts, C. M. Greer and Will McComick.

There was a large crowd here last Sunday from Duke. Among the number were: Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Newt Thompson, Walter Duke and Miss Laura Trotter.

We are still having fine weather and the farmers have about conquered General Green.

Harrah for the silver convention.

Unfair and Untrue

WAS THE ADVERTISER'S REPORT OF THE MEETING IN ANNISTON IN BEHALF OF BIMETALLISM.

Prominent Annistonians are Indignant, and Give the Facts in Reference to the Meeting.

For many months it has been well known that statements in the Montgomery Advertiser on the question of the free coinage of silver cannot be relied upon. The report which it contained in reference to the meeting held in Anniston last Saturday in behalf of bimetalism was not an exception to its usually unfair and untrue reports. It was so manifestly untrue that a number of prominent Anniston gentlemen expressed their indignation in the following special sent the Birmingham State:

Anniston, June 10.—(Special.)—The citizens of Anniston and Calhoun county are justly indignant over a report of Saturday's meeting in behalf of bimetalism, that appeared in the Montgomery Advertiser and other publications that have strings tied to them. The paper mentioned has been very successful in misrepresenting, not only the sentiments of this section, but of the entire state, and the outlook now is that the last effort to place Calhoun county in a false light before the world will keep the mails from being burdened with any more Advertisers in this direction. This is the report complained of:

IN ANNISTON.
Clark and Bankhead Address a Mixed Meeting.

Anniston, June 8.—(Special.)—Percy Clark, of Selma, and Hon. J. H. Bankhead, of Fayette, spoke in advocacy of the independent, free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 to a small audience in the opera house here this afternoon. Mr. Clark spoke about thirty minutes, after being introduced by Mr. S. B. Trapp, and Mr. Bankhead followed in a two hours speech. The audience comprised a great many populists and negro republicans, and a score or more of gold standard men who attended on account of the prominence of one of the speakers. After the speech-making, the bimetallic club of Calhoun county was formed, with Capt. James Crook, of Jacksonville, as president, and Archibald Henderson, of this city, as secretary and treasurer. A membership of seventy was secured. The club appointed a committee to select delegates to the Memphis free silver convention.

Your correspondent called on the leading merchants, lawyers, bankers and capitalists today, and below will be found their feelings in regard to the publication, and which I am satisfied voices the sentiment of the entire county.

Mr. J. J. Willet, one of Alabama's foremost attorneys, said: "The article in the Advertiser is wholly misleading. The meeting was composed entirely of the representatives of Anniston's best interests: there were present both wholesale and retail merchants and other business men, and four-fifths of the audience were silver democrats."

Mr. John S. Meering, president of the Anniston National Bank, asked to be recorded as follows: "I echo what Mr. Willet says, except I wish to add that the Advertiser's article is not only misleading but it is untrue. The audience was composed of men who are equal to any gold standard representative both in intellect, character and standing."

Mr. S. B. Trapp, one of the most prominent wholesale grocers in Alabama, said: "The utterance of the Advertiser is characteristic of the paper in its endeavor to mislead and bias the minds of people elsewhere. The meeting was composed of four-fifths bimetalists that favor 16 to 1 ratio, and the formation of the club after the meeting adjourned, clearly shows the nature, character and judgment of the people that composed the meeting."

In reply to a request for his opinion, Mr. D. T. Goodwin, chairman of the democratic executive committee of Calhoun county, answered:

"The report furnished the Advertiser is unfair and unjust, and does not correctly represent the meeting. It was composed of 250 to 300 of the representative citizens of Anniston—a few gentlemen of the county who were populists, six negroes and six gold standard men. If it had not been Saturday the attendance would have been much larger and the present membership of the club twice what it now is."

"Mr. Frank Nelson, president of the Bank of Anniston, said: 'I was present at the opera house meeting and although I did not know the politics of each person in the audience, yet I consider it was made up of the best of Anniston's citizens.' The article in the Advertiser is untrue and wholly uncalculated for."

Hon. R. B. Kelly, representative of this county, said: "I consider the Advertiser's report as very unjust to our city. The meeting was composed of representative men of this county and it was a large meeting, considering the short notice it was given up on."

The expressions quoted above, in addition to the prominent men who compose the bimetallic club among whom are Hon. James Crook, of Jacksonville, who was prominently mentioned as a democratic candidate for governor a few years ago; Hon. Emmett Crook, judge of probate; Judge Lapsley, of Anniston city court; Mr. R. P. Thompson, wholesale grocery; Mr. John M. Caldwell, attorney; Mr. A. W. Bell, wholesale grocery; and others equally as prominent, will satisfy those who have read the 'offensive article' that it does not reflect things as they really exist in Anniston and Calhoun county.

ELECTION OF FACULTY

OF JACKSONVILLE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The Trustees Select Three Teachers Who are Thoroughly Competent.

The trustees of the State Normal School at Jacksonville met last Tuesday and elected Prof. Forney, Wright and Daugette to take charge of this school for the next session, with the understanding that they are to select such other teachers as they deem necessary to make a success of the school.

All three of the gentlemen selected taught in the normal school here during its last session, and are recognized as teachers the equal of any in Alabama.

Profs. Forney and Wright are graduates of the State University of Alabama, and Prof. Daugette of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Alabama.

The writer has had a conversation with Profs. Forney, Wright and Daugette since their election, and we are confident that from the plans they will inaugurate, and the efforts they propose to put forth, that they will make a grander success of the school than it has ever yet achieved.

It is their purpose to select at once a thoroughly competent lady teacher to take charge of the primary department, and to add other teachers as the attendance requires.

They will at once commence negotiations to secure a teacher who can teach both vocal and instrumental music to the satisfaction of all patrons of the school.

They hope to be able to make the school so acceptable that it will secure the attendance of every child of school age in and around Jacksonville, and that it will draw a larger number of boarding pupils than ever before.

They will advertise the school thoroughly all through this section of Alabama by sending out catalogue, circulars and other literature, and by a personal canvass. They propose to see in person all the young men in this and adjoining counties whom they think could be induced to come here and enter school.

This school should be the pride of every person in Jacksonville, and while these teachers are putting forth renewed efforts to build up the school, we, as citizens, should go to work enthusiastically and do all in our power, to make the attendance next session double what it has been the past session.

Now is the time to work, and no man in Jacksonville can afford to lag or be indifferent. We must make a united effort to have an attendance next session of not less than three hundred.

THE REPUBLICAN.

Established in 1837, is the OFFICIAL JOURNAL of Calhoun, one of the largest and wealthiest counties in Alabama, and in which are located the towns of Jacksonville, Anniston, Oxford, Oxanna and Piedmont.

CIRCULATION.

It has a larger guaranteed county circulation in Calhoun than any other paper.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The subscribers of the Republican are the best people in the county—a class of people with whom it pays to advertise. Than it there is no better advertising medium in this section of Alabama.

THE REPUBLICAN.

ENGLAND buys of us each year $500,000.00 of our products. We buy of England $125,000.00. Why remain a debtor to her.

TEN more battalions of troops are being sent over to whip the bands of rebels in Cuba. Spain's bills will foot up a nice little sum.

THE President has appointed Attorney General Olney secretary of state, and Judson Harmon, of Cincinnati, as attorney general.

THE lines are being drawn. Kentucky and Ohio republicans declare for gold monometallism. Illinois and Iowa democrats declare for bimetallism at 16 to 1. The platform for 1896 are being built now.

Let every man in Calhoun county who believes in the free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold have his name enrolled as a member of the Calhoun County Bimetallist Club. Let Calhoun go to the State convention, to be called at an early date, with the largest club in the State.

THE farmer is in favor of the free coinage of silver because it means higher prices for his products. The laborer is in favor of the free coinage of silver because it means more money and better pay.
The money lender is in favor of the single gold standard because it increases the purchasing power of his dollar and lessens the value of all property and products.

A WEDDING is announced between Miss Rockefeller, daughter of oil magnate, and Mr. McCormick, son of the reaper and mowman manufacturer. The share of Miss Rockefeller in her father's estate is estimated to be thirty-five millions.
Mr. McCormick is one of the wealthiest young men in the country.
This is better than Miss Goid did.
Miss Rockefeller believes in patronizing home industry, and takes, instead of a titled count, a machinery manufacturer of Chicago.

FORAKER and his forces whipped out, most completely the Billy McKinley—John Sherman power in Ohio on May, 29. Bushnell, a life long friend and supporter of Foraker, was nominated for Governor.

The convention declared for mon-ometallism which it called by the misnomer, "sound money," and is now in order for the democrats to come out impudently for binetallism and a tariff for revenue and elect a democratic Governor in Ohio.

THE Montgomery Advertiser is very much worried about Congressman Bankhead. It wants to know why he is making speeches over Alabama in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. Bankhead is all right. He is simply one of the old fashioned democrats.
He was in favor of the free coinage of both gold and silver in 1873, in 1883, and is still holding fast to the Democratic faith as handed down by the fathers, and is only making a little missionary tour over Alabama to hold out faithful to the end, and to not bow down to the golden calf which is being held out before them.

Here is the thing which worries
the Advertiser: It knows Col.
Bankhead to be one of the best organizers and schrewdest politicians in the State, and his active work in favor of the free coinage of silver is very alarming to the old lady.

Gladstone's Prophecy.

The United States will become what we are now, the head servant of the great household of the world, the employer of all employed, because her service will be the most and the ablest.

These are the words of Wm. E.
Gladstone, the great English premier and statesman. Recognizing the wonderful resources of our country, noting the push and vim characteristic of Americans, he paid this glorious tribute to the United States and painted this brilliant picture of her future. It has been many years ago since Mr.
Gladstone gave utterance to these words. It has been long enough for us to have taken the position as "head servant," as the "employer of all employed." Have we attained it? To answer no, would be superfluous. Every American citizen who takes the time to think, or has the patience to investigate, realizes that England still "rules the wave," and that she is playing no insignificant part in controlling the destinies of this republic.

Is it that Mr. Gladstone was at fault? Can it be that he overestimated the powers of the United States, and that in his admiration of our system of government, and respect for our people, he drew too freely upon his imagination?
Americans, in whose bosom there remains a spark of national love are ill prepared to accept this view. The truth is it would be a false conclusion. All that this great Englishman has said of us would ere this have taken place but for causes with which he was not familiar. When Mr. Gladstone gave expression to this compliment to American thrift, industry and natural resources he was looking backward to the days when, as thirteen colonies we had risen against English oppression, and under the leadership of Washington, and inspired by the such men as Patrick Henry had refused to "lie supinely on our backs while the enemy bound us hand and foot."
Mr. Gladstone had in view the pluck and bravery, and intelligence and independence of the true American, the same pluck and the same intelligence that had enabled him to seize the undeveloped resources of America, and with only three millions of people defeat the soldiers of England and her foreign allies. He did not know, he could not foresee that what England had failed to do in war she would accomplish in peace, that where the sword failed, corruption would win. He could not foretell that, influenced by England, American statesmen like Sherman and his band of pirates of 1873, would attempt to scuttle the ship of state, and make the proud-est republic of the world the servant of a once defeated and numbered monarchy. Yet this has taken place. Through the treachery and perfidy of her own sons, America bows today in shame before England who, less than a century ago, and for the second time, begged for peace.

In direct violation of the intention of the founders of our financial system, and by a trick so dark and filthy that it smacked of hell, the demonization act of 1873 was passed. Even the president of the United States, who signed the bill, confessed that he did not understand its import or he would never have signed it. Many congressmen who voted for it, have since admitted that they did not comprehend its powers, and that it came to them by such means, and through such routes, as to completely disguise its meaning, and to put them off guard. Like a pirate vessel, with guns concealed, and flying false colors, it sailed through the snares and between the barriers which our fathers had erected against treachery, and took a position from whence its guns could bombard the very citadel of American prosperity.

In vain do the aiders and abetters in this vile outrage, at this late day, when its effects have proven more disastrous than they expected, attempt to make defense of their crime. By arguments as "false as deer's oats" they try to make the people believe that the murder of silver was a blessing to the country. By a wicked distortion of the truth and a malignant perversion of facts do they desire to strengthen their arguments.
But the day of reckoning has come. Lured by seductive promises, the American people have followed to the brink destruction itself. They are now looking for relief and listening to the words of Gladstone, they realize that instead of being the "head servant" of the world, the employer of all employed," they are but menials, and that thus far, this proud destiny has been denied their country. In looking for its cause, they find none, save the financial legislation of 1873, with its favoritism for the Rich and his oppression of the poor.

"It forces the hand," to hastening fills a cry.
Where wealth accumulates, and men decay;
Where luxury breeds avarice, and may fade,
A breath can make them as a breath has made;
But a bold peasantry, their country's pride,
When once cut off, can never be supplied."

Conscious of the truth of these beautiful lines from Goldsmith, the people are resolved to return to the principles of their fathers. The ballot yet remains, and it will be used to restore a safe currency, and to shake from the shoulders of American industry the foul clutch of English influence.

Wilson vs Oates.

Postmaster General Willson, who delivered the annual commencement address before the students of the University at Oxford, Miss., on June, 4, while speaking on the "theme" American citizenship," said:
"I long to see the south again in national leadership," and in response to this lofty sentiment he received enthusiastic applause.

How different, the desires of Mr.
Wilson—a northern man by birth and education, and Governor Oates, of Alabama—a southern man by birth, by rearing, by education, and the recipient of southern honors! Mr. Oates does not favor a southern man for the presidency, because he thinks that the south has no son worthy of so exalted a station. Why not worthy? Because, he says, if elected he would be forever pandering to northern influence in order to insure a reelection. Mr. Wilson, since his removal to West Virginia, and his election to congress, where he has been thrown every day, with "southern men, has learned to regard them as the salt of the earth, the peers of any race that ever existed. In his admiration for them he gave voice to the noble sentiment just quoted.

Aside from the governor of Alabama, he will find few men in the south who differ from him. He can find thousands to cheer his words, and thousands who are at a loss to understand the recent expressions of Governor Oates.

We would not rashly or unjustly criticize the governor. But we were born in the south, and from the day that the first history of the United States with every page embellished with deeds of southern men, our earlier than that: when at our mother's knee, we listened to the stories of Washington, and Jefferson, of Sumner, and other patriotic men of the south who gave themselves and their all to the cause of American independence, we came to regard the south as the very foundation from which greatness is born.
Gov. Oates may be correct; but if he is, history has lied.

ON May the 30th, in the great city of Chicago, one of the most remarkable incidents of this century took place.

During the bloody days of 1862-63, the United States government established a prison, known as Camp Douglas, where southern captives were confined. Unaided to the severe winters of that section, six thousand Confederate died in prison and were buried near the city of Chicago. For thirty years they have slept there, and the busy world around them has paid little heed to their resting place. A short time ago, southern men began the collection of a fund for the erection of a monument to these dead soldiers, and on May 30th it was dedicated under the auspices of veterans who wore the blue and the gray.

From different sections of the south, car loads of flowers had been sent with which to decorate the graves, and old soldiers, accompanied by many of the south's famous daughters, were present to take part in the exercises. A fair and venerable also, with their daughters, met the southerners there, and thirty years after the close of one of the most disastrous and bloody civil wars in the history of the world, veterans who opposed each other on the field of battle, knelt over the graves, to do honor to the southern dead.

It was a most imposing scene, and the accounts of it as published by the press of the country, have called forth expressions of gratification from every section, that the war is indeed ended, and that the mission of the brave, true, noble veterans—whether union or Confederate—is "to heal dissension and to foster peace."

May those weak, vindictive, narrow minded men, such as Ban-telle, who have dared lift a voice against the performance of this beautiful ceremony, be forever damned in the estimation—not only of this generation—but of generations yet to come.

A BIMETALLIC CONVENTION.

The following call, signed by well-known Democrats—men who are as loyal to the Democratic party as any men in Alabama—is in the eyes of the Montgomery Advertiser something fearfully dangerous. The Advertiser says "there is no wisdom or propriety in it;
there is great danger apparent from it; it can possibly do no good; it is calculated to result in great harm."

Headquarters of Alabama Democratic Silver Club, Birmingham, Ala., June 6, 1895.

The undersigned have been requested by the Alabama Democratic Silver Club of Birmingham to communicate with Democrats in other counties of the State and urge the formation of clubs in each county.

It is expected that when these clubs are organized a consultation will be had and a State convention called to further the views entertained by Democrats who believe in free coinage. We desire to ask your co-operation, and suggest that you confer with Democrats in your county and take immediate steps to organize clubs. It is expected that these organizations will be so complete in the next thirty days that further action may, by conference and joint agreement, be had.

So soon as any club is organized we will thank you to send the names and postoffice addresses of the officers thereof.

M. A. Mason, Chairman; Joseph
F. Johnston, S. W. John, W. P.
Pinckard, Oscar W. Underwood,
J. F. B. Jackson, Robert J. Lowe, Secretaries.

We have no idea that the Advertiser can see any wisdom or propriety in this call. It is true that from the Advertiser's standpoint
there is great danger apparent from it. From a thorough organization of the Democrats in Alabama who favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver there is greater danger than no gold standard man will be elected to any office next year by the Democrats of Alabama. In this way it is calculated to result in great harm to the political fortunes of the gold men.

But the men in Alabama who believe in binetallism—the coinage of both gold and silver—are going to organize thoroughly, and this organization will unquestionably result in the overthrow of men who are making an effort to destroy or halt the primary money of this country.

The people are aroused on this question as never before, and they will no longer remain silent and inactive.

ONE of Calhoun's most prominent Democrats in writing us says:
"THE REPUBLICAN contains more original matter, and is decidedly the best weekly in this section of Alabama."

This, and similar expressions which come to us from all sections of Calhoun county, are greatly appreciated.

Since the Republican has been under its present management, we have labored hard to furnish the people of Calhoun county a local paper of which they would feel proud, and appreciate sufficiently to accord it a cheerful support.

We, from week to week, by the aid of our very superior corps of country correspondents, have given all the news of Calhoun county.
In addition to this, we have as-given the general news of importance. The amount of matter which we have had put in type from week to week has been done at considerable expense, and while to date we have not made a fortune, yet the subscription and advertising patronage has had a steady growth, and by the time the paper has been under its present management for twelve months, we hope to have it on a paying basis. It has done better than we had a reason to hope when we took charge of it last August, and we have every reason to believe that it will continue to grow in public favor, and that its subscription list and advertising patronage will continue to increase.

It is now well known to be the paper through which the people in every section of Calhoun county can be reached, and every day is being more appreciated by advertisers. It is to-day in Calhoun county the paper of the people, and in order to reach the people, advertisers must get into its columns.

While it always becomes necessary to cut down the expense of a newspaper during the summer, we shall attempt to reduce the cost of getting out the REPUBLICAN so as that it will not be done at the expense of its readers. We propose to pull off our coats and work the harder, and hold the paper up to its present size and continue to give its usual amount of reading matter.

In the mean time, we hope our friends over the county will continue to send in new subscribers, and that our advertisers will remain with us during the dull season, and thus aid in building up a first class weekly in the county.

LAST fall during the congressional election when a number of the men who belong to the Peoples party were active in their support of Republican candidates for congress the REPUBLICAN took the position that nothing political could be more inconsistent than for the populists to support men who had been life-long republicans, and who still advocated the principles of the republican party; which principles are directly antagonistic to the principles which the peoples party advocates.

But our argument was met on all sides by populists that they would go to any extent to condemn the fruits which had been committed by the Democratic party in Alabama.

To this we replied; that "it was not possible for the Democratic party, or any other party, to be guilty of more outrageous frauds in the management of elections than had the republican party in the past.

We are glad to notice that the leading populists of the state now see this question as the REPUB-LICAN saw it last fall.

The leading populist papers not only oppose a fusion with the republicans in next years election, but take the same position the Republican took last fall as to the fruits which have been committed by the republican party when it had an opportunity.

The Peoples Tribune, Capt.
Kolb's paper, in opposing a fusion with the republicans next year, and in answer to a suggestion from H.
W. Williamson that the populists should unite with the republicans in order to secure fair elections, says:

"There is no necessity to go outside for candidates for any office the party has to bestow. If Senator Williamson will remember aright, Haynes, Republican, was elected but not elected President.
Going back from that tragedy in our history, he will find nothing in Alabama politics to build up a phantasy on that the Republican party has fewer sins than the 'organized' Democracy standing against it on the score of fair elections. Corruption in both old parties is the compelling motive of the Peoples Party."

THE New York World has asked foreign Ministers of finance for the views of their countries on bimetallism. In response, the Russian minister said that Russia felt no present interest in the matter.
The German referred the World to the recent speeches in the Reich-tag when the resolution favoring binetallism was passed. Holland favors a conference. So does Belgium. The finance Minister of Spain thinks that country would send any effort of the United States to bring about a conference.
And so it stands. The whole of Europe, save only England, waiting for binetallism, and all ready to aid in silver restoration to its true honored position as a primary money. Who are they waiting on?

The United States, of course, whom they followed in demonstrating that metal. What is the United States doing? Waiting for some of the other countries to lead.
She ought not to wait. The position of leader in all enterprises or reforms that will have a tendency to ameliorate the condition of humanity, belongs of right to our country. With the world waiting for us to take the lead, why do we halt or even hesitate. It is but an act of justice to the people that country should hasten to end the wrong 1873. And it should be borne in mind that "justice delayed is justice denied."

SOME days ago the State contained an editorial in which it said:
"It is important that all factions of white voters at the South should come together for the preservation of white rule and good government.
If we can find common and honorable ground upon which all can stand it is certain that the great body of people would unite and make common cause, leaving all questions of distribution or offices to be determined by primary elections within party lines.

The Montgomery Advertiser attacks this utterance of the State in a most vicious manner, and leaves the impression that it, the Advertiser, does not desire to see the white voters of the south again together.

For once the Advertiser may justly ask the book keeper to credit it with telling the truth. It does not desire harmony in the South.
When peace comes, the occupation of that journal is gone. It has ever been a foment of strife, a sower of discord, a murderer of friendships.

This is the carrion upon which it feeds. Nothing else is palatable. Nothing else will support it.

THE "sound money" convention at Memphis gave orders for the gold standard men to form leagues all over the south. We are patiently waiting to hear the Montgomery Advertiser denounce that convention for giving out such an order in the same manner as it did the proposition to organize silver leagues in Alabama.

Does not the Advertiser think these gold leagues would be great enemies to the Democratic party as the sub-alliance of which it has so much to say?

Or does it think the silver leagues would be all wrong and the gold leagues all right? No doubt but it sees them in this light, as it has denounced the proposition to organize the one and not the other.

THE shooting of the governor of the assassin was a well-merited butchery. The day after the shooting, Clavijo was sent to the gallows and condemned to be shot. He was driven to the execution grounds, a the order to fire given. Three balls

THE Montgomery Advertiser and a few other papers in the state which have turned a summertime on the silver question, try to make it appear that to advocate the free and unlimited coinage of silver is to advocate the populist doctrine. If so, then every paper in Alabama must plead guilty to advocating a doctrine of the populists within the last three years—the Montgomery Advertiser included.

The Democratic state convention of Alabama will also have to plead guilty to the charge of inserting a populist plank in its platform.

FANCY

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the problem.

WE HAVEN'T LEFT A STONE UNTURNED.

We have ploughed the entire producing field. We have furrowed deep and wide. We have done everything within the bounds of possibility to lift still higher the famous excellence of our goods. We have had experience for a teacher. We have had the preference you have always shown for us stimulating to greater achievements. We have this one end and aim in view, to offer the store, better the values, increase the variety and lower the prices; in short, offer more, ask less. As evidence, look at our SPRING SUITS. They are unbettable.

$6.50 TO $15.00.

Look at the Little Boys' and Big Boys' Suits, $1.25 to $7.50.

Look at the Furnishings, from one end to the other, Rich Values, Popular Prices. We don't know the meaning of the word trouble. No effort is too great. The harder you are to fit, and to suit, the harder we strive for your satisfaction to its fullest. Giving your money back is only rectifying the error. We do what is better, guard against its occurrence. Perfection is not a chance shot here. You will hit the bull's eye every time.

Last week in publishing the program of the Sunday school meeting at Alexandria, the date was printed as the first Sunday. It should have been the fifth Sunday.

We regret exceedingly to learn that Gen. John H. Forney had the misfortune to lose the residence on his farm at Jenifer last Thursday morning. The building was not insured.

Sometime ago I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and customers to try the remedy and all speak highly of it. Simon Goldbaum, San Luis Rey, Cal.

Tyerson E. Watson went over to Atlanta last week to look after his concession to furnish camp stools for the exposition. He has let contract for the making of the stools and the booths in which to store them on the grounds of the exposition.

"Many of the citizens of Hainsville Indiana are now without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This was myself taken with a severe cold, croup and whooping cough in children; that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it.

The Jacksonville detachment of the Woodstock Guards has been quite busy the past week, preparing for the encampment at Mobile.

Lieut. Forney will carry about twenty men with him, and they will make a valuable addition to the Guards.

"I have two little grand children who are teething this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowels complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Mrs. W. L. Dunagan, Bon-Aqua, Hickman Co., Tenn.

John Rowland, Ed Caldwell, B. L. Vansant and B. E. Frank went to Tatum's mill on a fishing excursion last week. They found plenty of perch and bream, and brought home quite a fine lot.

Female Weaknesses.

Many beautiful women are in the very prime of life. Others from a child are afflicted with some form of weakness. Why is this? The answer is simple. They have been lengthened as home made hair. The commonest cause of female weakness is the use of cheap hair. The use of cheap hair is the cause of many of the most distressing forms of female weakness. A positive cure. Forcible or whites are easily cured by our medicine. Two applications. Price larger packages by mail. Calhoun, Ala. W. B. Arbery, Druggist.

Minor Happenings of the Week

GATHERED BY THE REPUBLICAN'S ABLE CORPS OF CORRESPONDENTS.

PIEDMONT.

June is here and June is lovely, but it will soon be gone. The month of roses, of hot suns, of soft and gentle flower laden breezes! The spring poet feels again the sappy rush of poetry in his blood, for the very name of June is suggestive. It rhymes with June and soon and moon, also with June, who could not make a poem with so many good rhymes and the thoughts they inspire!

The commencements are over and the happy girl-hits away to some secluded nook to rest awhile, for June is languorous.

Miss Carrie Monahan is visiting her sister Mrs. Porterfield, of Alexandria, and we all find an aching void without Carrie. The sweetest girl, so full of thought for others, so kind to all!

Mrs. Bart Cowden, of Cartersville, Ga., who has been visiting relatives here returned home on Monday carrying three of our girls with her for a summer visit—Misses Mary Lou and Annie Moody, and Miss Nanette Craig.

Miss Fannie Palmer is visiting her sister, Mrs. McKinzie, of Rome. Miss Myrtle Allgood will leave, on tomorrow, for a long visit to friends and relatives in South Carolina.

Miss Mary Hood and Miss Birdie Sharp will spend awhile in Rome, the guests of Mrs. Abe Glover.

Miss Martha Phillips, of Chattanooga, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. R. C. Craig.

Miss Geneva Johnson arrived at home yesterday to the delight of her many friends. She has taught her first class in Art in the North Alabama College at Fort Payne and given perfect satisfaction. She is a talented artist, as well as a lovely young lady.

Miss Jessie Johnson is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Hunnycutt, in Aniston.

Mrs. Bessie Harbin and Miss Helen Yeatman are residing at Wheeler's springs, Cleburne Co. They report lots to eat and a good time generally, and as the hotel there is kept by Mrs. Enloe, formerly of Cedar town, we may be sure the guests are well treated. A party from this place went up there Sunday, dined, and returned well pleased with their trip. They were Adger Alexander and Miss Daisy McCollister, Tom Woodruff and Miss Lou Elgin, Charlie McCollister and Miss Mamie Monahan. Guides: Walker Sharp, Will Pope and E. W. Ledbetter.

E. W. Ledbetter leaves today for the Epworth League Convention at Chattanooga.

Mr. Verlenden, a stock holder in cotton mills, is enjoying life, and good water, at Wheeler's springs.

Mrs. Claude Wolf, late of Knoxville, Tenn., with her little daughter, is the guest of her brother, Dave Cowden. She is on her way to Washington to join her husband H. W. Wolf, who has been promoted in railroad matters to a higher and more lucrative position.

A fishing party composed of W. J. Alexander, Will Alexander, Sharp Stewart, Tom Wilkerson and G. W. Alexander tied themselves away to Cronch's Mill, this morning, on Terrapin creek, loaded with fishing paraphernalia. As Mr. Brewster said last week: they generally succeed in having good success.

The versatile editor of the Inquirer, Mr. Wiggins, is going to try "pasture new" and start a brand new Inquirer at Tallapoosa, Ga. What is going to be done with the Piedmont paper, do not yet appear, but it is supposed that Mr. Brewster will make it interesting.

Before closing I would like to give a word of encouragement to the ladies who may have an editorial bee in their bonnets. Don't go it blind. Make a contract with the editor who lets you get out a "special edition." Have it in black and white. Don't undertake it unless he turns the office over to you, and you can hire your own printers. Don't jumble your edition up with other work. Don't undertake it at all unless you possess your soul with patience, and have so much charity that you are fit for the kingdom of Heaven.

ALEXANDRIA.

The closing exercises of the Alexandria Academy last Friday night, were very enjoyable. Prof. Glass is an excellent teacher, and, besides having given such general satisfaction as a teacher, has during the one term that he has been here, succeeded in heating the school building, and furnished it with desks, and made other small improvements. It is to be hoped he will remain with us another year.

Miss Maggie Woodruff who has been visiting her brother here, has returned to her home near Gadsden.

Miss Carrie Monahan, of Piedmont, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Porterfield.

Mr. J. D. Green, of Oxford, spent Sunday with his parents here.

We are making preparations for the District meeting, that is to begin at Mt. Zion Church, on Friday night, and continue until Sunday.

Mr. Howell, of the firm of Howell and Clark, who has been quite ill, is improving.

Mr. H. J. Dean, Jr., is visiting in Calera this week.

We had a fine rain and some hail yesterday afternoon, but not enough to damage the crops.

Master Charley Martin, Jr., has a pair of goats with which he and his friends are much entertained.

WHITE PLAINS.

Recent fine rains have made our corn prospect very fine.

Oats are being harvested, and the crop is the best we have had for a long time.

We need a canning factory at White Plains. Our fruit and berry crop is abundant, and if it could be marketed, would bring us much silver. When will we learn to the best advantage, what nature so freely gives us? We might all be rich if we would but do this.

Messrs. W. C. Scarborough and J. C. Watson attended the meeting of the board of trustees of the Tallapoosa District School, at Andalusia, last Tuesday. Prof. Pettit was elected principal of the school. He comes highly recommended, and with the hearty support of the district will no doubt succeed in building up a first class high school. Prof. Pettit is a native Alabamian, and a teacher of experience and ability.

Prof. T. A. Anderson and family, of Texas, are visiting friends and relatives here. Prof. Anderson is president of the Sneedoches University. He has a fine school, and is so acceptable to the Texas people that at the last meeting of his board of trustees, he was elected for a term of two years. Prof. Anderson was reared and educated in Calhoun county, and is a son of whom Calhoun may well feel proud, and of the many good teachers we have sent out, no one is more successful than he, nor any more deserving of promotion.

Dr. J. L. Baker is on a visit to his father in Madison, Ga.

There is so little sickness that two or three other doctors might go on a visit and no one suffer on account of it.

JENKINS.

Our little burg is quite lively just now. The blacksmith has more work than he can do. Farmers are neck deep in work, for their oats are to cut, corn to lay by, and many other things to be done right now.

Mrs. Eaddy and little George are visiting friends here.

Mrs. Kate Watson is visiting relatives in Oxford this week.

Mr. Joseph Whiteside, of Oxford, is visiting his sister, Miss Lizzie Whiteside, at his former home near here.

Richard Whiteside went to Oxford last week to see the home folks.

CHOCOLOCCO.

Our farmers have been in a rush for several weeks, and they have their crops in good condition. We are through with cutting wheat. This year that crop is below the average.

Some of our people are cutting oats. The oat crop is above the average this year.

The crop of whortleberries is considerably above the average. It is reported that Mr. W. W. Scott, of Iron City, has bought and shipped three or four hundred dollars worth. A negro man near here carried fourteen bushels to Aniston the other day and they brought him twenty-four dollars.

Now, Mr. Editor, don't you poor town people envy us country folks? Blackberries are ripe, and so are whortleberries, mulberries, dewberries, peaches, apples and plums. We have plenty of beans, roasting ears and other garden sals, with corn in the crib, wheat in the garner, meat and molasses in the smoke house, plenty of milk and butter, good fat mules. If we have not these things we should have them, so why fret about gold and silver like you town folk.

Summer fairs have opened up in our town. Some good colored Baptist sisters, after shouting on Sunday and Sunday night, decided they would stop the sanctified business, and on going home met one of the sanctified women, knocked her down and broke one of her ribs. They were called before Judge Teague, who decided that they were rather too zealous. He tried one, who contributed nine dollars to the business. The other he sent to Judge Crook.

There is a colored couple near here that has not been getting along very well for some time. Occasionally a fight would result. The old lady got the best of it the last time and sorters skinned up the old man's head with a brick.

A son of Mr. Holloway died Monday.

Mrs. Tom Francis and children are visiting Mrs. J. E. Downing, sister of Mrs. Francis. Miss Downing of Aniston, is visiting the same family.

Hon. Dick Kelly, and children of Aniston, visited Mr. Kelly's mother on Sunday.

Messrs. John Hughes and Jim Bell have rented Messrs Scarborough and Milligan's threshing, and will begin to thresh wheat this week.

Lindsay Scarborough has returned from school at Greensboro.

The entire sanctified band of colored people are to be baptized by immersion next Sunday at Downing and Morris mill. There are about seventy-five of them.

CANE CREEK.

There was a most enjoyable fishing party at Francis' gin last Saturday. The young people to the number of thirty, accompanied by a few older people, gathered there, and spent a most delightful day. The time was pleasantly spent in fishing, boating, playing croquet and eating a fine dinner. Miss Fannie distinguished herself by catching the only fish that was caught. Louis was distinguished for his dignity; Tom, for his politeness; George, for his handsome martial bearing; and John and Frank for appetite and capacity.

Last Thursday we had a terrific rain, and on the 25th, a very destructive rain, hail and wind storm. It was almost a cyclone, and trees and fences were blown down. Great damages were done to the crops.

We are promised an essay by one of our most attractive young ladies in the near future. Her subject will be "my first beans and potatoes." We shall be delighted to send it to the REPUBLICAN for publication. It will make mighty instructive reading. Be good to cut out and put in a scrap book.

Mac Pilkinton played up the boss spoke. He says it was at least sixteen feet long, and that the scales on it bent the point of his plow. The mule kicked at it and the spike grabbed it by his foot, caught hold of the shoe and pulled it off. The spike made off with the shoe in its mouth and Mac and the mule made for home.

The big booger of Morrisville is learning to ride a bicycle, and has succeeded in standing on his head. The boys say he cites rulings of the supreme court when his bike gets contrary.

OXFORD.

The papers report times improving, prices advancing, manufactures resuming work, iron gone glimmering, and that the gold standard folks are happy, or pretend to be, because they think or pretend to think, that the condition Mr. Carlisle predicted when he advocated the cause of the people, and the cause of the Democratic party, would be "worse than war, famine or pestilence," is bringing prosperity instead.

But let me tell you something. It's no single gold standard policy that's producing anything good. It's the silver lining in the cloud. Already those who are far sighted in business matters see that free coinage is coming, and that the country is going to be prosperous, and they are just simply taking time by the forelock. That's all.

Now if the prospect of free and unlimited coinage of silver on equal terms with gold has already begun to usher in better times, will it not be grand when hope ends in fruition, and this—the best government the world ever saw—is on the same financial basis it lived and did well on from the time the Declaration of Independence said, "These colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent, 'till 1895, when the republican party demonstrated one-half the people's standard money; and made them poor in debt!"

They tell us that there's plenty of silver dollars in the U. S. Treasury, and that the government will ship stacks of them, free of express charges, to any bank in the country, but that the banks don't want it,—that they had rather pay $1.50 per thousand on gold and greenback.

Well that's so. The banks don't want silver, but the people do. And the way for the people to get it, is for those who have bullion to have it coined, and fill every pocket about their old clothes with bright, new silver dollars, and carry them home with them and buy kind, and hogs, and corn, and chickens, and potatoes, and watermelons and blackberries. Don't you see that will scatter it broad east all over the country.

We don't want the government to coin the silver and keep it or pay the fellow gold or greenbacks for it. The seigniorage will make as much silver money as the government will need. We want the silver coined for the people. They need it, and they are going to have it, and the dead certainty that it is coming has already stimulated trade in some places, and the nearer we approach the time of the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, the more prosperous times will be, until even Oxford will catch on. And the Lord will not have to open the windows of Heaven to accomplish it either. Just the certainty of the free coinage of both silver and gold is all that is necessary, sure enough.

SAM SLIM.

BERA.

Too much rain last week for the farmers in this locality.

Brother Asa Allen will preach the funeral of G. W. Peterson, at New Bethel, the fifth Sunday in June.

Rev. T. S. Winn is slowly recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

J. W. Ray is preparing to erect a steam gin and corn mill in connection with his saw mill.

J. M. Wilkes lost a valuable mule, from sickness, last week; and H. P. Davis lost a good horse.

Esqr. Haynie has been looking around this week in the interest of the Silver Club. He says that every man he has seen has joined, but one, and that was a half crazy negro.

There was a severe hail storm on the 12th inst., in the lower part of the county, and the upper part of Tallapoosa county. Cotton and corn were both very much injured.

Esqr. Haynie says that the excitement caused by the recent announcement that he was plowing was unnecessary. His neighbors will all swear that he has not plowed a day.

Prof. P. I. Storall is in the burg the guest of J. E. Canale.

Thos. N. Dempsey and Miss Larry Platt were married near Bynum Sunday night. Rev. E. P. Bynum officiating.

Miss Sallie Stephenson visited Miss Sallie Haynie Sunday.

SCHENCK'S SPRINGS.

Rev. Hugh Johnson filled his appointment at Angel Grove church last Sunday.

J. D. Crow, of Jacksonville, has moved his family out and is camping here now.

We continue to have a large number of visitors here on Sunday. Among those here last Sunday we met: John Journey, Mrs. Watson, Miss Annie Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. James Crow with Master Ross Liston, Jacksonville; Mrs. W. P. Cooper, Mrs. B. T. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Crook, Mr. and Mrs. Clate Woodruff, Tom Smith, Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Usry, Hobovon; Bob Hollingsworth, Lee Boozer, Beat 7.

J. C. Keith, of Aniston, is spending a few days at the springs.

Picnics and excursions seem to be the order of the day. Aniston Presbyterian Sunday School had a picnic here last Friday. Judge Lapsley accompanied them. The boys say they never saw as many pretty girls as came with this picnic party.

Cartersville and Cedar town will have a picnic here Friday, 28th.

The farmers are getting along finely with their crops.

I don't think the health of this community ever was better than at present.

Watermelons are blooming and putting on most charmingly.

Al Dean's many friends would be glad to see him over here. Come, Alf, if you have to straddle a bicycle.

BRUNER.

Everybody down here is looking blue over the damage done by the big rain last Thursday evening. It was the heaviest rain fall that has occurred here in years past. Land was badly washed in many places, and considerable damage was done to crops.

There was a teachers meeting at Boiling Springs on last Saturday. Quite a large number of our people turned out, and some good speaking was listened to. Mr. Miller, as county superintendent of education, is doing a great work for the people of Calhoun county. He deserves the thanks of all our people, regardless of party. The education of our children is one thing we all agree on.

A new boarder arrived at the Bruner hotel on Sunday morning. No arrangements have been made to settle board bill, but we suppose his mother, Mrs. Anna Finley, will make that all right. We want more money and cheap calves now, for it is a nine pound girl.

MORRISVILLE.

Rev. W. O. Horton filled his regular appointment at Morrisville, Methodist church last Sunday, and preached a very able sermon to a large and attentive audience. There were three additions to the church.

Mrs. Fannie Reid, of Morrisville, has gone to Eastaboga to visit her kindred and friends in that locality.

The noise of the threshing is heard separating the straw and chaff from oats and wheat. Oats are turning out very well, wheat not so good.

We had a very heavy rain this evening, also wind and hail which damaged crops some.

A goodly number of people are making preparations to celebrate the "glorious fourth." Some are going to Aniston, some to Harts Ferry, and some to Alexandria. Good luck to all of them.

There is to be a "shindig" at Cedar Grove next Saturday. Grand mother, and all the balance of the family are invited to attend.

CHATCHEE.

Rev. B. B. Nunnelly preached an able sermon at Oak Dorey last Sunday.

Mr. Chas. P. Nunnelly returned to Gadsden Tuesday after a short visit to his family.

Mrs. Landau and Frank Edmonson, of Aniston, who have been visiting Dr. McRae's family, returned home Tuesday.

Miss Marey Jones, of Cedar town, and Miss Ethel Pearce, of Aniston, are spending a few days with Mrs. A. J. Tarver.

Jno. Hamilton is quite sick.

Mrs. O. J. Hawkins, who has been very ill, is reported to be improving.

Mrs. R. B. Coler has a large music class at her home and is making quite a success of her work.

Mrs. J. A. McCordie, formerly of this place, who has been visiting her father in Jolly, Texas, passed her last week, enroute to Florida, where she will join her husband. Fruit and berries are getting plentiful now and our crops are looking well.

WEAVERS.

Crops are looking well where they have been worked in time, but the majority of them have suffered some from lack of work, and are a little backward.

The oat crop is not so good as it was thought to be a few weeks since.

It rains enough to make it difficult to kill the large grass.

The rock crusher has been moved to the Dordard farm, and the road in that neighborhood is being graded.

A little affray took place last Friday night at a colored people's supper, in which one Blackwell struck his knife in Will Cunningham, under the left arm. The wound is doing well, and no fears are entertained that it will result seriously.

Mr. Monk was married last Saturday to Miss Malinda McDowell.

The Sunday school at this place expects to have a picnic at the caves near here on Saturday, July 6.

FERGUSONVILLE.

Several of our masons went down to Alexandria on Monday to attend the installation ceremonies.

J. P. Wakefield had a log-rolling on Tuesday.

We had very heavy rains on Thursday and Friday of last week. Our farmers are busy "killing by" their oldest corn.

The crop outlook is fine. Corn and cotton both are growing rapidly, and the weeds and grass are doing likewise.

Col. Bill LeGrande passed through our village this week.

Wheat and oats are both late, and neither are very good.

Messrs Simpson and Foster are out with their threshing this week.

Messrs Clements and Donahoe have moved their saw mill to Silver Run.

Dan Teague, col., has been crazy for more than a week.

Nothing new in our burg. Nobody dead, sick or married. Only peace and quiet.

PEEK'S HILL.

Most of our farmers are about to get Gen. Green under control. Harvesting is about over.

The Sunday school at this place is in a prosperous condition. Mrs. Fannie Gore and her two accomplished daughters, Misses Lula and Emma, are workers in our school. We are glad to have them with us, and hope they will remain at this point.

Misses Lena and Maggie Martin, two of Gadsden's accomplished young ladies, have returned to Gadsden after a week's visit to their aunt, Mrs. J. M. Gray.

J. E. Sheppard has gone to Gadsden on business this week.

Crops are looking well in this section and people are encouraged over the outlook for a fine crop.

The Kentucky Convention.

The democratic convention of Kentucky met at Louisville on Tuesday. They nominated W. H. Hardin for governor. Hardin is a free silver man and has canvassed the state making speeches demanding the recoinstitution of silver.

The convention's platform is a straddle. It endorses the platform of 1892 and expresses confidence in Cleveland and Carlisle, and their administration.

Some time ago I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and acquaintances to try the remedy and all speak highly of it. Since Goldsboro, La. Ray, Cal.

EDUCATIONAL RALLY.

AT BOILING SPRINGS SCHOOL.

Picnic Dinner—Several Addresses—Young Teachers Advised to Attend Jacksonville Normal School.

On last Saturday the people of the western part of the county gave a school picnic at Boiling Springs and invited a number of speakers to address them on educational subjects. Prof. Robinett, who has taught one of the most prosperous schools in the county at Boiling Springs, had issued invitations to Hon. L. D. Miller, Prof. Jacob Forney and a REPUBLICAN representative to be present.

Mr. Miller left Jacksonville on Friday afternoon for Alexandria, where he attended the closing exercises of Prof. Glass' school on that evening. He and Prof. Glass drove down to the springs the next morning. Prof. Forney and J. P. Crook left Jacksonville in the early morning Saturday, and reached the picnic ground about ten o'clock, after a drive of twenty miles.

The church and school building are situated in a beautiful grove on an elevation, and a more pleasant spot can hardly be found in all the county.

The number of people who had gathered there, notwithstanding the busy season on the farms, showed the interest that the people around Boiling Springs are taking in the subject of education. About eleven o'clock all assembled in the church building, which was better suited to the accommodation of the crowd, and Prof. Robinett, in a very appropriate speech of welcome to the visitors, introduced Mr. Miller, county superintendent of education. The greater part of Mr. Miller's speech was devoted to needed legislation upon educational matters. He commented specially upon the Hundley amendment which was lost in the last election. Mr. Miller is a great advocate of this amendment to the constitution and showed clearly that it would be the greatest aid to education in the rural districts. He asked all who heard him to study the matter, and talk it over with their friends, so that when an opportunity to vote upon it again is given, it will not be lost, as it was before, through lack of interest on the part of our people, and through ignorance of its inestimable benefits. Mr. Miller briefly reviewed the school history of the county during the past twenty years, and showed that while wonderful advances had been made, we had only begun the work.

Prof. Forney spoke next, on the subject, "A practical education and how to get one." It is hardly necessary to say that his speech was brimming full of good solid suggestions. Every one who knows Prof. Forney, and has heard him in the teachers institutes, or classes in the state Normal school, knows how logical and clear and instructive his talks are. He pointed out the mistakes of the teacher and the pupil, and showed how these errors should be corrected. Prof. Forney spoke for forty minutes, and his speech was listened to with great interest.

After a dinner composed of all the good things in the country—a dinner to which those twenty-mile tourists did full justice—Prof. Glass, of the Alexandria High School, spoke upon the relationship of the teacher, the patron and the pupil. In the course of his remarks he referred in the most complimentary terms to Prof. Forney, and paid a high tribute to the normal school at Jacksonville, of which Prof. Forney is president. Mr. Glass advised every young man who ever intended to teach, to go to Jacksonville and take the normal course, assuring them that they would never regret the step.

Mr. Crook then addressed the audience on the condition of our public schools and how we are to better it.

Mr. Miller closed the meeting by thanking the good people of Boiling Springs for the interest they were taking in education, and said that the good work they were doing would have its influence throughout the country. He said that the reference of Prof. Glass to the Jacksonville Normal School, prompted him to say that there was no institution in Alabama that offered superior advantages to young men and women who desired to teach. He realized every father and mother to send their sons and daughters there.

Students there, and assured them that the results would be most satisfactory.

A number of teachers from the surrounding towns were in attendance. Among them were Prof. Slayton of Bera, Prof. Farabee of Frances, Prof. Walden of Bruce, and Prof. Abner of Oklawaha.

Before leaving, Prof. Forney distributed some circulars of the Normal school, and received many assurances of interest in the success of that institution.

MONTEVALLO.

Gets The Girls Industrial School.

The board of trustees of the Industrial School for White Girls met in Montgomery last Tuesday to select a location for the new school. The committee appointed at the last meeting of the board to visit each of the towns applying, and investigate their offer, made a report, which was received on motion of Hon. Sol. D. Bloch.

Nominations were then declared in order and Jasper was placed in nomination by Hon. John M. O'zark by Judge A. L. Montevallo by Hon. Thos. P. Wadsworth by Hon. W. W. Wadsworth by Hon. F. S. Moody, Camden by Hon. Sol. D. Bloch.

The following resolution was introduced by Judge Ansell and adopted:

Resolved, "That all the places to be voted for be put in nomination, and that the vote be taken by ballot, and that each trustee shall vote for but one place, and that on each successive ballot the place receiving the lowest vote shall be dropped and 8 votes be necessary to a choice. The balloting then began. Aniston fell out first, then Wetumpka, Ozark, Camden and Tuscaloosa, in the order named. This left only Jasper, and Montevallo. Four times the vote stood Jasper seven, Montevallo six, then Messrs. Bloch and Purifoy, Camden's backers, caucused and cast their votes for Montevallo, leaving the result, Montevallo eight, Jasper seven, and Montevallo was accordingly declared duly elected as the location of the Industrial School for White Girls.

Montevallo's offer was four squares of land adjoining the college building, four residences and eight acres of land adjoining, valued at $30,000; forty-room building and dining hall to be erected, $40,000; 100 acres Montevallo coal lands, $40,000; 200 acres farm lands, $20,000; year's supply of coal free, aggregating a total of $12,000.

After settling the location, the trustees entered into an election of a president. There were eight nominations, and after a spirited balloting and speech making, Miss Julia Tutwiler, of Livingston, was elected.

While Montevallo is doubtless a fine location for the school, we are firmly of the opinion that Aniston was decidedly the best location considered by the board of trustees, and we regret exceedingly that she was not selected.

The concert, given by the ladies of the Baptist church on Friday evening of last week, was quite a success.

The threatening weather prevented many from attending who would otherwise have been present. The program had been prepared with much care, and the reception given each performer by the audience was most gracious.

The piano solos, by Prof. Grues, were special features of the evening, and were much enjoyed by those present.

Mr. Gus Williams gave a moonlight picnic at Sulphur Springs last Monday evening complimentary to Miss Dollie Lane. It was attended by Misses Dollie Lane, Emma Forney, Annie Forney, Benie Forney, Annie Stevenson, Marie Burke, Annie Crook, Goldie Ayers, and Messrs. Gus Williams, Cooey Lane and Ralph Mattison. They all report a most delightful evening.

The case of the state vs Joe Burton which was submitted to the supreme court some weeks ago was taken up by Justice McClellan last week, and it was found that the bill of exceptions was incorrect. On motion of the appellant a certiorari was granted for a true bill of exceptions. The decision of the court will be delayed about one month.

I have two little grand children who are teething, the summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. FAREWELL SERVICE.

The service at the Baptist church last Sunday was one which will not soon be forgotten.

Dr. Lane in his long pastorate here made many warm personal friends who regretted to see him and his excellent family go away. As an expression of this regret, the Baptist church Sunday morning was filled with both people and sentiment, and the moist eyes to be seen in all portions of the church spoke louder than words of the respect and love in which Dr. Lane and his family are held by this people.

The farewell sermon was beautifully pathetic, and with all the efforts of the speaker he could not control his emotion, thus showing that the relation between pastor and people had been held by him as a most tender one, and that it was severed with the most poignant emotion.

Dr. Lane and family left for Forsyth, Ga., Friday, where he has accepted the pastorate of the Baptist church and the presidency of Monroe Female College.

We find pleasure in commending this excellent family to the people of Forsyth as one which would prove a valuable acquisition to any city or community, and Jacksonville realizes the loss she sustains in giving them up.

While no doubt the people of Forsyth have already learned to appreciate Dr. Lane, they cannot realize what an acquisition they have gained for their city until they know personally well Mrs. Lane and the children.

As an expression of good will, the citizens of Jacksonville presented Dr. Lane with a purse a few days since with which to purchase a handsome suit to wear at his new home.

For several years Dr. Lane was the pastor of Mrs. O. M. Reynolds, of Anniston, and on last Thursday Mrs. Reynolds sent up an express package containing a valuable present for each member of the Lane family.

Numerous other expressions of a similar nature have been given the members of this family by the people of Jacksonville, and they go away with every possible evidence that they not only have the respect, but the love of the people among whom they have lived for the past eight years.

Jacksonville has a number of embryo champion bicycle riders, who are only waiting for a fair and square settlement of the claims of Johnson and Zimmerman to the championship, when they expect to challenge and defeat the victor.

Most prominent among them are: General John H. Forney, Mr. V. H. Marshall, Aldermen Gas Stewart and John Jekes, Mr. Ed. Rowan, Mr. J. E. Nisbet.

These gentlemen gave an exhibition of their skill on the streets Tuesday, to the delight of a large number of our citizens.

The most unique exhibition was that of Jacksonville trick rider, Mr. V. H. Marshall. His specialty as introduced yesterday seemed to be that of leaping daringly at the trees on the square, and as the crowd held its breath, anticipating a crash, he would glide by missing the obstacle by a hairs breadth. Now and then his bicycle would imitate a Texas broncho. It would start off at a rapid rate, and then stop and back. The rear wheel would paw the earth a little. Suddenly it would dart away, the rider sitting it with all the grace and ease that could be expected of one in so exciting and difficult a position.
